ONE WAY TO GET THERE.

Once there was a little Chorus Girl named Madge. She was one of that kind who, though having Plenty of ability, did not know how to make the Most of it and Herself.

To begin with, she was Young, Good Looking, and Talented. The possession of a fine Voice decided her to Go Into the Lyric branch of Stage work, and, in Pursuit of Experience by which to Equip herself for a Comic Opera career, she made application her usual strident tones softened by Sympathy.

"Weh-eh-eh-ell," sobbed Madge, turning a Tear-stained and Paint-streaked face to Bettie. "I've just heard that That little wizened brunette who stands next to me, has been put in the 'brides-maids' line. My voice is Heaps better than hers, and, if I Do say it, she can't hold a candle to me in Appearance.

depends upon one's Own push and energy," answered Bettie. "though of course, a Clever person is sometimes Discovered by accident."

"By the way, Bettie, how did you arrive at the Front-row so quickly," asked Madge, "you started away back, up-stage with me. You don't seem to have any particular Pull with the management."

"Well," answered Bettie, "I don't mind

"Well," said Bettie, "draw some Attention to yourself, especially as you really have Loads of talent. Don't do anything though, that might get you Fired, but come in late a few times—even stay away from an important rehearsal, as I did once, when the manager had Warned us that No excuse excepting Death would Go. And," continued Bettie giving Madge the Benefit of her experience, "I Annoyed him several times by Anticipating cues during a dead silence just before a Stunning climax. After three such intentional blunders which took Some nerve to make, and which spoiled the effect of the Finale, I was told that I was Too Ambitious for the chorus and invited to step out of it. That didn't worry me much, for I knew they wouldn't discharge me for a little offence like that, but it Gave me a Chance to Apologize to the manager and Get Back again. You see, I was Impressed on his mind for for a chorus position, which is the Lowest rung of the particular ladder she Hoped to climb.

Madge's name became enrolled upon the List of a prominent Producer of Musical Stagers, not because her Personality made any special Impression upon his managerial Mind, but because he happened to Need a few more Voices to fill his chorus Ranks.

During the First business rehearsal, Madge's place was very Close to the Back Drop, and she was glad to get Even that position. The Day of the Production six weeks later, Still found her the same relative distance from the footlights—that is, doing Super work.

As rehearsals progressed, Madge noticed that several of the girls who had Started where she still Remained, had been Advanced to Something Better, where Chances for Promotion were good, while Others from Further front, had been Relegated to the Back row with her.

Among those who had Reached the front row before the Opening Night, was a bright young woman by the name of Bettie. Nobody knew how she had won her way there, and she was not Telling,—at least not until Madge questioned her on the subject. Bettie had neither Face, Figure, nor Voice of Special value or beauty, but what little she had, she Made the Most of.

One day, after the production had been running about a week, Bettie entered the dressing room earlier than Usual, and found Madge there alone, Weeping and Trying to Make Up at the Same time.

"What's the matter, dear?" asked Bettie,

How on earth does it happen that she's Picked out and I'm Left! She came only two weeks before we opened, while I was here day-and night, during the six weeks of rehearsals."

"Perhaps you haven't made yourself Conspicuous enough," replied Bettie, who Had. "In this business, you've Got to Obtrude your Cleverness upon the special notice of the Manager, then Place a Value on it."

"But I've always heard that managers Keep their eyes open, Watching the Conscientious workers, then Advance them according to their Deserts," said Madge, who, ignorant of the Ways and Means of Advancement, had not Presumed in any manner to forward her own Cause. "Then too, I've been told that they're always on the Look-out for a Find among the Beginners."

"Well, I've noticed that Success usually telling you How it happened, because I like you. I simply succeeded in Keeping myself in the Eye and Mind of the manager, Not Pleasantly, always, to be sure,—but in one way and another, calling his attention to myself. Now, this is my second year in the business, and I began This season back in the Same line I was in last year. When I realized that I had made no Progress, my Mind got Busy concerning the Reason. I watched three or four others Graduate from my side to Better positions in the production,—even small parts—and from them I learned my little Lesson, which I'll proceed to give you Points on,—if you want them, my dear."

"Do Put me On, for Heaven's sake!" exclaimed Madge.—"It can't hurt you any, for we're so entirely Different, that we Never could be Rivals in the business."

a minute or two at least.

"Previous to that, I had been to him, simply One of the Bunch, but afterwards, I stood out in his mind as the one who had been Somewhat too ambitious. I got that much attention to start with, and after that, I kept myself in his Eye from time to time in Various ways. I tell you, a girl in this business has a fight from the very start. It is no wonder that she becomes Selfish, and also a bit Narrow minded, for she travels in a Groove where Self Advancement is the Main Thought."

"Now, little girl," went on Bettie, "you too, have got to take a few Selfish Powders in order to get Ahead. Nearly all Successful people are busy looking out for Number One, consequently, if you don't bring Yourself to Notice, no one else will. Now, dry your eyes dear, and begin planning a campaign to Fight your Way to the Front Row."

In reviewing her few weeks' experience, Madge remembered circumstances where she had not Grasped possible Opportunities. For instance, on one occasion the manager had given her a certain bit of business, and in the multiplicity of details, had forgotten all about it at the next rehearsal. Instead of bringing it to his mind, as she might have done, she had Lost an opportunity, through Fearing to obtrude a Reminder upon such an august personage as a Manager.

As the piece was in its First Week, and many changes were being made at daily rehearsals, Madge at Bettie's advice, sought the manager and Brought to his attention, the Forgotten bit of business.

"You should have reminded me of That before," he said. It's a good Point and we'll use it."

It so happened that the Point developed into a Bit, and That into a Part, so that at the end of the season, Madge who thereby made a Hit in the piece, signed for a good engagement for the following season with the Same management.

Tip:—Managers help them that help themselves.

Tip 2:—Self Interest is the First law of The Profession.

John Kellard, well known to dramatic fame, was once playing an engagement with the late Sol Smith Russell in "The Tale of a Coat." In the play, Kellard had occasion to wear a handsome frock coat which, for its cloth and cut, was the admiration of the company, including the star-manager.

Soon afterwards Russell made a revival of "A Poor Relation," and about that time, occurred the death of Boucault the writer. Russell was invited to be one of the pall bearers at the funeral, and as he happened not to have a suitable coat for the occasion with him, and there was not sufficient time to have one made, he sent a note to Kellard explaining his need, and asking for the use of his frock coat. A postscript to the request read, "By the way, you needn't mention the fact that I'm wearing your coat."

Kellard's coat served its purpose, and was returned to the owner the following day with a quaint note of thanks which ended, "and please don't tell—the Tale of your Coat. (signed) Sol Smith Russell,—A Poor Relation."

It is a well known fact that rivalry in art and financial matters, and general growth, exists between certain cities not far apart on the map. This condition which was productive of so much local argument, has prevailed for instance, between Chicago and St. Louis, St. Paul and Minneapolis, and at one time, between Syracuse and Utica.

Kellard tells a story relative to the feeling existing between the latter cities. During that period, Frederick Warde gave the play, "Damon and Pythias" in Syracuse which was named after that ancient city mentioned in the play.

Warde, who interpreted the principal part, the only honest senator, delivered the impressive diatribe against the senate which ended with the words, "There is now no ancient virtue left in Syracuse."

This declaration had the effect of inciting a word of defence by a faithful Syracusean who had been listening to the speech from a gallery seat. At least, his very audible exclamation showed that he did not intend a rival town to be thought any better than his own. As Warde uttered the last word of the line, this partisan, who by the way, had evidently been drinking, leaned over the rail and very loudly said:

"And there's goll darn little left in Utica!"

A friend of Kellard knowing his need of an actor for a small part in "The Cipher Code," his most recent play, sent a young man to him who proved unsuitable for the part. Some time later, Kellard met his friend who asked:

"Well, Jack, how did that chap do?"

"Do! why he didn't do at all," exclaimed the actor.

"Well, that's too bad," said the friend, "didn't he know anything?"

"Know anything!" exclaimed Kellard in fine scorn. "No, he didn't even suspect anything."

A well known actor who had been visiting out-of-town friends over Sunday, not long ago, hurried down to the little station on Monday morning, with the intention of taking a certain train into the city. After making a few inquiries of the colored porter who was attending to his duties about the platform, he finished by saying:

"And you say the next train surely stops at this station?"

"Yes sub, de very nex' train stops at dis place fo' shuh sub," was the answer, at which the actor sat down contentedly to read his morning paper. A few minutes later, the distant shriek of a train whistle was heard, and he jumped up, grasped his satchel and stood ready to board the approaching train. To his surprise and annoyance, the train, which was a fast express, rushed by through a cloud of whirling dust. He looked after the disappearing train through his dust filled eyes, then turned to the darkey who stood close by with mouth and eyes big and round with astonishment, he exclaimed:

"Well, that train didn't stop here, did it?"

"No sub," was the reply, "she didn't even hesitate."

Mattie Keene who is touring the vaudeville circuits with playlets by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, paid a very pretty tribute to the author a short time ago when playing at Poll's theatre, New Haven. Mrs. Wilcox, whose beautiful shore-home is at Short Beach about seven miles from New Haven, went up with some friends to the "City of Elms" to see "Her First Divorce Case,"—one of her sketches.

The clever points and apt lines of the playlet were thoroughly appreciated by the audience, which, being that of a college town where learning permeates the very air, were quickly understood, due applause following each telling line.

At the end of the act, an admirer in the audience threw an immense bouquet of violets upon the stage at Miss Keene. After bowing her thanks, the actress turned to the box which the Wilcox party occupied, and gracefully presented the poetess with her floral tribute.

At the compliment, the "house" echoed with thunderous applause, to which both actress and author responded. Seldom does it happen that a vaudeville sketch receives the same ovation accorded a first-night production, this playlet having been one of the exceptions.

The following is one of the several asinine communications recently received by Fanny Rice during the week she was giving her sketch in Omaha at the Orpheum. The would-be acquaintance makes an attempt at fine writing in the following:

"My dear Miss Rice:—As we journey thro' Life we meet people from many 'by-paths' and some strange roads. I noticed your performance this evening and from the fact that I write you, it is not necessary to mention that I am more than pleased with you. (condescending, indeed!) Am stopping at this hotel, and extend to you an invitation to dine with me tomorrow, Monday evening at six o'clock sharp. Kindly meet me in the parlor of this hotel, I will wear a red rose so you will know me and I will recognize you at a glance. I only hope you will come. Will not sign my name to this note for you would not know the name but I will tell you when we meet. Living in hopes until tomorrow evening at 6 sharp, I will say good night and sign myself, Your New Friend."

Another invitation reads as follows:—"Dear Miss Rice, Will you meet me after the performance tonight and share a big bottle and a small bird? I will be waiting at the stage door with a newspaper in my left hand."

Miss Rice read the invitation to Miss McCamus who assists her in her sketch by a well interpreted musical accompaniment, then dryly asked:

"Do you note the generosity of this? I am invited to share a small bird."

When William Colby, one of the clever "Colby Family" now booked in the principal vaudeville circuits, was a member of his prospective father-in-law's company some years ago, the Oliver Comedy Company, as it was billed, received an offer which was accepted, to open an "opery" house at a town "up Sonora way" in California. The stand was to fill a week, and the owner of the theatre wanted the first night's performance to be a Shakespearean play, no matter what plays should subsequently be given to fill up the week.

As the company had no tragedy in their repertory, they were obliged to "get up" in one within two days' time, "Richard III" being the selection. When the company reached the little town, they were told that the house was sold out, and the opening of the house was to be a gala celebration, and that a big week's receipts were expected.

Each member of the company as he came upon the stage with the exception of "Richard" himself, received a round of applause. The performers noticed that a wave of dissatisfaction would frequently roll over the house during the performance, and were at a loss to discover the cause, as they were all doing their very best. Finally the curtain went down, and the audience fled out while many remarks of a derogatory character were made concerning the play.

About seven o'clock the following night, Colby called at the principal store in the town where the tickets were being sold from a diagram pencilled upon a sheet of paper. "Well, how are they going?" he asked of the storekeeper who was also the owner of the "opery" house.

"Not so as you'd notice it," was the laconic answer.

"Why, we had a full house last night,—what do you think the trouble is?" questioned Colby.

"Well, the folks all say that your company hasn't treated us fair and square, an' I don't think you have myself, if you want the truth," was the answer. "I'm going to lose money on the deal, too," he added with a resentful look at Colby.

"Haven't treated you square," repeated the actor, "why we agreed to give you a tragedy by Shakespeare, and you were satisfied with 'Richard III' when we made the contract."

"Nothin' was the matter with the play itself," said the manager, "that was all right, but you can't come here with a cripple fer a leadin' man, an' expect to do business in this town."

When Colby explained that in Shakespeare's play "Richard" was deformed, the manager's countenance immediately brightened, and he hurriedly sent out couriers in different directions to publish the facts to the townspeople. As the hour was late, only a small audience assembled to see "East Lynne," the second play of the company's repertory. However, Wednesday night's performance was well attended for the Daily Clarion announced that the leading man was not a cripple, but a straight, handsome young man.

NOTES FROM THE BONNER SHOW of Educated Horses, Ponies, Donkeys, Dogs and Monkeys.—The show is receiving finishing touches of paint, etc., which will make it new from bale ring to toe stakes. Our dressing room is 35 ft. top, and our round top is 75 ft., with 25 ft. middle piece. Roster: Miss M. A. Edwards, treasurer; Lillian Burbank, ticket seller; May Le Grange Snyder, equestrienne; Mrs. C. L. Edwards, secretary; J. E. Grant, rube clown, with trick donkey; N. A. Snyder, harp soloist and leader of band of seven pieces; Jack Lloyd, knock-about clown and comedian. There will be twelve animals in all, including riding dogs and monkeys, high jumping ponies and greyhounds, the dancing horse "Dynamo," and the wonderful "Bonner." The show is booked for the entire season, opening May 28, at Eldridge Park, Elmira, N. Y. C. L. Edwards, business manager.

CHARLES E. E. TAYLOR will take out a novel show, which he calls a Kite Carnival. It includes various kinds of kite flying and aeroplanes. Mr. Taylor will also manage Prof. Pamahaska's Bird and Dog Circus. Both attractions are well booked at Summer resorts.

THE WORCESTER AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY, of Worcester, Mass., is taking on new life, and is to have a large fair this year. This is the second year of a fair on the new grounds, and several thousand dollars will be expended upon buildings and improvements. The fair will be under new management, and "up to date" attractions will be presented. There will also be good purses in the horse races, and the premiums on all entries will be larger than those at most fairs.

THE STAFFORD BALLOON CO. will open its season at North Sydney, Cape Breton, May 24, after which it will start operating a captive balloon at Crescent Beach. The company has had good luck booking the same in connection with the hot air balloons at the fairs.

Music and Song.

Among the recently published songs are: "Just Next Door," "In the Good Old Fashioned Way," "The Star and the Flower," "The Tie That Binds," "Tis Not Always the Bullets That Kill," "The Little Place That I Call Home," "I've a Longing in My Heart for You, Louise," "Hello, Central, Give Me Heaven," "The Maiden With the Dreamy Eyes," "Nobody's Looking But the Owl and the Moon," "The Phenologist Coon," "My Castle on the Nile," "Down by the Summer Sea," "If Time Was Money," "I'd be a Millionaire," "O, Golden Land of Peace," "In the Valley of Kentucky," "Dear Old Stars and Stripes, Good Bye," "Day by Day," "In the Sweet Summer Time," "Katy Did," "Bill Bailey, Won't You Please Come Home," "The Certainly is a Merry Life," "Fanny," "Glory to God," "A Little Boy in Blue," "Fare Away, I'm Waiting for Ma Man," "The Brotherhood of Man," "The Furniture Man," "You Were Never Introduced to Me," "The Pooh Bah of Blackville Town," "She's All Right," "Can't I Live My Life for You," "When You Need Me, Baby, Send for Me," "You are My All in All," "Just Ma Little Yaller Boy and Me," "In the Springtime," "Just to Be Near You," "June, My June," "Going, Going, Going," "Stay in Your Own Backyard," "Can't I Live Without You, Katie Reilly," "Be Careful of the Hoodoo Man," "A Gentleman of Winning Ways," "Gracie," "Just Plain Folks," "You May Be Warm, But There's Other Brands," "Somewhere, Someday," "When I Recall the Long Ago," "We've Been Living in a Fool's Paradise," "Good Night, Be Loved, Good Night," "Three Strikes Out," "Fare Thee, Honey, Fare Thee Well," "I'm My Own Boss," "As the Cuckoo Struck Two, Two," "The Sons of Ham," "I'm Feeling Lovely," "The Story of the Rose," "The Tommy Murphy," "The Bird That Never Sings," "You Needn't Come Home," "My Midnight Rose," "Emancipation Day," "Southern Blossoms," "Oh! La, La, La, La, La, La," "Just for Tonight," "Sweet Maggie May," "June, My June," "I Can't Forget I Love You, Eloise."

Wilbur Gardner, who has been connected with the Harry Von Tilzer Music Pub. Co., has placed with them his march and one step.

For the Spring tour of the Sousa Band, through the Middle States and Canada, John Philip Sousa has engaged as soloists Lucile Jocelyn, soprano, and Marguerite de Fritsch, violinist. They will make their first appearance with the band at the two concerts which will inaugurate this tour Sunday, May 13, at the Metropolitan Theatre in the afternoon, and the Metropolitan Opera House in the evening. Mr. Sousa is at present at Hot Springs, Va., engaged in the composition of his new march, which is to be dedicated to King Edward VII. Mr. Sousa has also written the march, a patriotic hymn called "The Messiah of the Nations," written by James Whitcomb Riley, which will be heard for the first time at the dedication of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, May 15.

Bennett and Rich will have a new composition by Ed Rogers, which will be featured in their act, "At Camp in the Philippines," next season.

Harry B. Smith and Harry Von Tilzer are at work on several production numbers, and have also in view a musical comedy.

The Chester Sisters are adding to their laurels in the prominent music halls throughout England, with "Mah Moonlight Lou."

The programme of the three hundred and fortieth concert of the popular Emporium Orchestra, in San Francisco, under the direction of Aug. Hinrichs, was devoted in its entirety to numbers from the Witmark catalogue, sixteen well selected numbers representing everything from "Mirabella" and "The Donkey Laugh" to the tuneful selections from Victor Herbert's "The Tunes of the Tunes."

Albert A. Lupien, music publisher, has engaged the well known composer, arranger and pianist, Jesse H. Campbell, as general manager for his firm. His new Spring catalogue has just been issued.

All the new numbers for Shipman Brothers' new shows will be composed by Harry Von Tilzer, the lyrics being furnished by Geo. Totten Smith.

C. E. Lance, who has had the orchestra at the Griswold Hotel, in Pittsburgh, during the past Winter season, has been engaged with his orchestra to play at the Oakland Hotel, Oakland, Md., for the summer, and will open there June 1 with seven men.

R. A. Sears is with Victor Kremer's Music Publishing Co., as pianist and arranger.

Al. Von Tilzer, who has been for the past five weeks in the Chicago office of the Harry Von Tilzer Music Publishing Co., has returned to the city, and reports immense progress for the Von Tilzer prints in the West.

By arrangements with Messrs. Hopwood & Crew, the London publishers, M. Witmark & Sons have secured exclusive rights for America to publish the music of the musical comedy, "The Chinese Honeymoon."

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Our theatrical correspondents are hereby notified that the credentials now held by them will expire on June 1 next. They are requested to return them to this office at once, for renewal for 1902-1903.

—Harry E. McKee writes: "On Saturday night, May 3, at Bloomington, Ill., Paris Comedians gave the copyright performance of my play, 'A Mother's Sacrifice,' to a well pleased audience and the satisfaction of the manager. The house manager conceded it to be the equal of any play produced there this season. June Swift essayed the sacrificing young mother and gave the difficult emotional role a brilliant finish in her own clever way. The leading comedy role was given by the author, Harry E. McKee, who was greeted with laughter and applause. Alma Rutherford McKee, the author's wife, deserves a word of praise for her exceeding daintiness and grace in a small soubrette role, and little Genevieve Rutherford was a bright stage baby. A clever lover was Daniel McClure, and Hugh Mackaye, as the villain; Jack Magee, George Hanna and Carl Caldwell, in widely different character parts, all did remarkably well. Chauncey Holland, Warren Crossman and James McCauley also deserve special mention, not forgetting Bessie Warren, who was extremely clever as a domineering wife."

—Maurice Campbell will sail for Europe on June 1, in order to confer with two English dramatists who are at work on plays for Henrietta Crossman. Mr. Campbell has signed a three years' contract with Charles Cherry, who will be Henrietta Crossman's leading man during that period. Mr. Cherry made a remarkable success in Miss Crossman's new play, "Madeline."

ARTHUR B. ADAMI.

Few singers and character actors have met with better success in vaudeville than has Mr. Adami, who for the past season has been a feature with the Dumonds. Besides his singing and character work Mr. Adami is a clever guitarist, and in either line his work is of a high standard, and always wins the approval of his hearers.

—Henrietta Crossman will close her season on May 26, in Troy, N. Y., appearing on that date in a benefit performance for the newspaper men of that city. She has scored another success in Mrs. W. K. Clifford's play, "Madeline," which she now has on tour. "Madeline" is a modern play, in two acts, and affords Miss Crossman her first opportunity since becoming a star of appearing in modern dress. Miss Crossman does "Madeline" with "Nance Oldfield" as a curtain raiser, and these two plays will be used as her matinee bill next season.

—Pauline De Vere, the vocal soloist, joined Walwin Wood's Stock Co. at Eclipse Park, St. Louis. She is playing the leading role in "Was She a Boy?" and making a great success in her portrayal of the part.

Notes from the Lonsdale Theatre Co.: Hal Barber, joined the Elks at St. Louis Falls, S. D., a week ago. He is certain of it, for he asked to see all they advertised, and they willingly gratified his wish.

May 5 he purchased a handsome cottage and a corner lot in his home town, costing over $2,000. His company is booked solid until March, 1903. Special scenery will be carried for each production. W. S. Lackaye, comedian, will again be with the company, making his third season. James Street also, making his second season. Rehearsals commence at 10 o'clock.

—A "Homespun Heart" will close a successful season of thirty-nine weeks on May 17, at the Bijou Theatre, Pittsburgh.

—Margaret Crawford, the American contralto, who has been absent from this country for four years, has returned to New York City for a visit to her family. Shortly before sailing she closed a three years' contract for the Opera House in Berlin.

—Charlie Frey and Minnie Evans have just closed a successful season of thirty-eight weeks at the Bennett & Moulton Co. (Earl Burgess, manager). They are re-engaged for next season with the same company.

—Uly S. Hill, who is at present representative of the Fenberg Stock, has leased the Grand Opera House at Freeland, Pa., for the season of 1902-03. The house will be entirely remodeled, with new dressing rooms, new scenery and everything to make it a first class house. Mr. Hill has engaged S. Guy Woodring as resident manager. Mr. Woodring has been for the last five years instructor and leading man of the Freeland Dramatic Co.

MAUDE RAMEY

Is a bright young St. Louis singer, whose progress in lyric art, as a member of the Castle Square Opera Co., has been rapid and uninterrupted. Miss Ramey joined the ranks of this organization as a member of the chorus. Her unmistakable talent, her enthusiasm and application, and her quick study won her in less than two years a position in the ranks of the principals. During the Castle Square engagement in New York City last Fall the entire musical press was a unit of praise in regard to her singing of the roles assigned her. Especially was this true of her rendition of the priestess, in "Aida." Miss Ramey's voice—a corollary soprano—has been carefully cultivated in the best schools in this country. The sturdy pluck which characterizes the American girl prompted her to enter the Castle Square chorus, desiring to begin her professional career at the foot of the ladder rather than attempt any lofty introductory flight. And the wisdom of this course is proved in the fact that few young American singers today face a brighter future than that which is assured Miss Ramey.

SAM D. DRANE

Was born in Washington, D. C., thirty-five years ago, and made his professional debut in 1884, with the late John McCullough's company. The season of 1885-86 he was with "A Prisoner for Life" Co. Then followed engagements with "A Cold Day" Co., the Reilly Co., "A Busy Day" Co., and other organizations equally well known, with which he met with success playing character comedy roles. He is this season with Sun's Minstrels, as a leading comedian and doing a monologue.

—Notes from the Guy Stock Co.: We opened our Summer season in Trenton, Ill., under canvas, to the usual good business. Our company is nearly full from our last tour, and are now staging "The Three Musketeers," "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," "Foul Play," "Don Cesar de Bazan," "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," "Rip," and "Sapho." Scenery is being painted by Ray D. Clifton, who has charge of stage. Len G. Shelby joined for advance. Del Smith has charge of the band, which consists of the following: Will Huntington, Chas. Elwyn, Bud Kimble, George Crawley, J. W. Chess, Chas. King, Joe Wilson, Fred Neighbors, Theodor Fahl, Harry Seamon, Paul Rova, Berney Murphy. Dramatic people: Inez Mercer, Madge Osborn, Nellie Kimble, Ester Hall, Mrs. M. M. Mercer, G. C. Guy, Bee K. Kilburn, Chas. Williams, Handy Winfield, Will Bigelow, W. H. Kesee, William Toole, H. H. Lawrence. Specialties: By the Five Dollars, Keene, the juggler; Keene, the contortionist; Prof. Carlton's dogs, and the Sweetizers, who joined to do outside exhibitions and their flying act. Whitey has charge of the tent, with four assistants. Ed. Koehler, of Du Quoin, Ill., comes on Monday, to put in the Koehler light, which is undoubtedly the best light for case ever had, and our tent is as well lighted as any opera house we ever played in. We intend to tour Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

—T. A. Willis writes: "The Rowland Bijou Comedy Co. has had the most successful season yet experienced, and the balance is on the right side of the ledger. Now that we have weeded out the dead wood, we will spend our Summer season on the lakes of Canada. The company now numbers eleven people, including the charming young leading lady, Marie Adams, who has surpassed all her previous efforts, and has won no end of praise from both press and public for her careful rendition of Lady Isabel. Mr. Rowland says that she is undoubtedly the peer of all who have portrayed the role in his company. We now carry full scenery for each production, and a full line of special paper. Roster: J. H. Rowland, Harry W. Young, Joe N. Machan, F. Arthur Ruff, G. O. Long, T. A. Willis, Rome A. Machan, Marie Adams, Young, Marie Adair, Emma Machan, Baby Roster. "This Old Reliable" is a welcome guest each week."

—The Morris Stock Co., now en route through Maine, includes: Wm. Morris, proprietor; Pauline Fielding, Josie Gerrish, May De Velle, Chas. Newman, Harry Moore, Henry Dunn, Walter Smith, Al. Thomas, manager; Edgar Allan, H. M. Linmons, Chas. Fuller, Clyde Roberts and E. S. Gidley, advance agent. The members of the company were entertained at Sanford, Me., Wednesday evening, April 30, by Elma Bennett, lady of Guy Bros. Minstrels.

—The Lillian Mortimer Co. closed its season in Fort Wayne, Ind., on Saturday night, May 3. The performers re-engaged for next season are: Harry Hillard, L. E. Johnson, Russell Haldermann, Henry Victor Ellis and Belle Belmont.

—A Woman's Sacrifice is the title of a new play by Frank J. Martin and John A. O'Rourke that will be exploited next season under the direction of George W. Heath, of Boston. It is said that the construction of the play is novel and the situations strong. William M. White has been selected to play the part of the woman who makes the sacrifice.

—Little Beatrice Menot, who for the past season has been seen in the role of Tatoo, in Whitaker & Lawrence's production of "At Cripple Creek," will be featured next season in a play now being written for her by a well known author. In the new play she will have plenty of opportunity to display her wonderful singing voice, as well as use her nimble feet to advantage.

After a week of careful rehearsing, under the able direction of W. H. Baker, "A True Kentuckian" was produced May 3, at Royersford, Pa., Opera House, to capacity business. The piece was well received, and it is said that the comedy side of the play kept the audience convulsed, while the dramatic portion never ceased to hold the interest during the entire performance.

Specialties were introduced by Arthur and Stock, the burlesquers, and James and Davis, "The Yodler and the Coon." Both specialties made a big success. The company is under the management of Baker & West, and will play the best towns in Pennsylvania, Maryland and New York. The following people make up the company: Frank Arthur, Walter F. Stock, Harry W. James, Mark Davis, Robt. A. Lacy, A. C. West, W. H. Baker, Ben. Greenfield, Thos. Jones, James Dorsey, Daisy Vallmore, Virginia Warden and Lylene Radcliffe. Two men are in advance.

—Notes from J. C. Graves Co.: We opened our Summer season last night at the Auditorium, Winchester, Va., to a large house. Drama and specialties were cordially received. Manager Harry Marham deserves great credit for his work in the leading role, and others worthy of especial mention are: Jack Connolly, Lambert Henderson, Richard Goodman, Ed. Wyman, Eliza Clyde, Beulah Shannon and Little Bessie Rosa, the latter making a great success in her clever specialties. The entire company deserves praise for excellent work. The company is a strong and evenly balanced one, and prospects for the Summer season are promising.

—Frederick H. Wilson has changed the title of his new play from "The Little Yodler" to "On the Banks of the Rhine." Little Irene Myers will be featured. A stirring feature of the production will be the surrender of Marshal Basaine to Count Von Bismarck, on the battlefield of Sedan. The character of Napoleon III will be very prominent.

—Notes from the Spooner Dramatic Co.: On May 19 Manager F. E. Spooner will complete the twelfth year as manager and proprietor of the above company. Mr. Spooner and his daughter, Allie, have been joint stars, and have won the admiration of the public everywhere. Miss Spooner has won the hearts of all, both socially and professionally. Though quite young, she has shown dramatic ability of a very high order, and has received excellent offers from well known managers, but she will remain joint star with her father for the remainder of this and next season. Then, in all probability, she will accept an offer she has received to go abroad to star in a play that is suited to her talent. Miss Spooner also has an offer to appear the coming season in opera, but she will not forsake the drama. Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Spooner celebrated their respective birthdays recently, and received congratulations and remembrances from their many friends. While playing in Wilmington, N. C., Allie Spooner was the recipient of a basket of flowers, the Eyoa tribe of Red Men being the donors. The basket was nearly three and a half feet high, and in the centre, covered by beautiful flowers, was a three pound box of choice candy. She also received a box of magnolias from Florida. The local order of Elks gave a social session to the company on Friday night of the same week. Singing, speeches and toasts were indulged in until the early morning hours. The Spooner family and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Harrison will spend their vacation in Washington, D. C., and Ocean City.

—Fanny McIntyre, who is now in San Francisco, will be the new leading lady at the Girard Avenue Theatre, Philadelphia, next season.

—Charles R. Schach has joined the Dilger-Cornell Co. to do his specialties and play parts.

—Arthur Ritchie joined the Jeannette Rostelle Co. at Oakland, May 7. He will play juveniles and sing illustrated songs.

—Barney Gilmore will close his present season at Chicago on May 24. It has been a financial success, far beyond his expectations. Next season Mr. Gilmore will give "Kidnapped in New York" an elaborate production, and will also produce his new play, "A Fairy's Kiss," now being written for him. The season will begin at Syracuse, N. Y., on Sept. 1.

—The Elmore Sisters and Jas. F. Green will be featured next season in "Devil's Lane," a musical comedy, in four acts, by Eunice Fitch. This play was given a trial tour during the Spring, and proved a success. There are about eighteen musical numbers, written by Carleton Lee Colby. "Devil's Lane" will be an elaborate scenic production, and the scenery is now under way. The paper will be a full line of lithographic work, of all new and original designs.

—J. Arthur O'Brien has signed with "Joshua Simpkins," to do juvenile and silly kid, doubling the parts and doing specialties.

—Geo. W. Herbert will take a stock company to Schenectady, N. Y.

—Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Cregan have returned from their Southern tour, and are spending their vacation with Mrs. Cregan's sister, Mrs. George Williams, at Sunny Side Farm, near Athens, Ill.

—Stuart Laroche has ordered a high speed automobile of a French design.

—Harry R. Vickers writes: "The Friel-Griffin Stock Co., supporting Lawrence Brooke, opens a Summer season of twelve weeks, commencing May 12, at Franklin Falls, N. H. The repertoire includes: Arthur, Friendly Enemy, 'Alone in the World,' 'Monte Cristo,' 'A Hidden Crime,' 'Once Upon a Time' and 'A Girl from the North.' Special scenery is carried, and the approach of the show is heralded with as fine paper as the best of them. The company includes: Lawrence Brooke, Thornton Friel, Arthur Griffin, Arthur Kelly, Joseph E. Rowe, Fred Marsden, Ernest Ferris, Freeman Hollis, Harry R. Vickers, Dorothy Lamb, Josie Mitchell Vickers, Estelle Barron, Mrs. Thornton Friel and Little Alice. Juvenile is given between the acts by Kelley and Josie Mitchell Vickers, Thornton Friel, Arthur Griffin, and illustrated pictures. The company is under the management of Thornton Friel, with Harry R. Vickers, business manager. The time is booked solid, with the prospects of a prosperous Summer season."

—Oscar Wheeler has closed at Little Rock, Ark., a three years' engagement with the Morey Stock Co., and will spend a few weeks at his home in Quincy, Ill.

—Clarence Kent closed April 26 with the Adelaide Randall Co., and opened 27 with "In the Rockies" Co., at Chicago, for the Summer season.

—Hermione M. Lask and F. S. Greenlee (non-professionals) were married April 30 at the home of the bride's parents in San Francisco. The bride is the daughter of Harry Lask, our correspondent, and the groom is the niece of George E. Lask, the well known manager.

—Carl L. Way has been re-engaged for juvenile leads with the Mme. Elsie de Tourney Co.

—Frank C. Harris will close with Elmer Walters' "A Thoroughbred Tramp" Co. June 1, and will return to his home at St. Louis, where he will rest for the Summer.

—Harry Fenwick, now with the Blaney Stock Co., in Jersey City, will again play the role of Bud Stanton, in "Across the Pacific," next season.

—Peter Raymond and Claire Summers have closed with the Hoyt's Comedy Co., after four years of success through the Southern States.

—Chinese Johnny Williams, who for three years has played the Chinese role in "Across the Pacific," has been seriously ill for the past four weeks, but is again on the stage, greatly improved.

—Theresa Rollins has signed with the Jeannette Rostelle Co. for leads for the Summer season.

—Byrne Brothers' new "Eight Bells" Co., under the management of Wm. Black, will include in next season's company: Martine and Sutherland, Ella Shields, the Damm Brothers, and Oliver Russell and Frank Strachan. The rehearsals commence July 15, and the season opens Aug. 11.

—William G. Stewart is rehearsing two comic opera companies for the Summer. For his Providence company he has engaged Marie Strakosch, A. Lionel Hogarth, William Blaisdell, Allen C. Hinkley, Andreas Schneider, Edna Hunter, Edward Gore, George Lash, William Wolfe and Henry Leona. Mr. Peragena will be stage manager. The Boston Music Hall Co. will include: William P. Carlton, Harold Blake, George Leslie, John P. Kennedy, Madison Smith, Arthur Earnest, Clara Palmer and Bessie Tannehill.

—Guo Hill writes from London, Can.: "We produced 'Alphonse and Gaston' here for the first time, with great success. House large, audience enthusiastic. John Cain, as Alphonse, and Wm. Mitchell, as Gaston, scored an unqualified success. The rest of the cast consisted of: John Price, John Tierney, Fred Huber, Dan. Swift, Mary Moore, Mozart Quartet, George Scotty, Ada Deaves, May Courtney, Margie Tebeau, Louise Satoru and an ensemble of sixteen."

—J. Y. Lewis, of the Lewis Bros., has closed with the Bijou Stock Co., and "The Elmer's Big" "U. C. S." show to do heavy and Rube. He will be joined by a new partner for the Fall season.

A NEW AND FAST GROWING SUMMER PLACE FOR NEW YORKERS.

One of the most delightful places on the New Jersey coast is Beach Haven. It is separated from the main land, insuring a continued coolness. The bathing has no equal, and the sheltered coves make sailing a delight. The fishing is superb and like-wise the shooting. The social characteristics are without comparison, and, in fact, every environment needed to make the resort ideal has place at Beach Haven. The hotels are palatial homes rather than the ordinary cottages. With the exceptional train facilities the New Jersey Central has provided, there is little reason why Beach Haven shouldn't become one of the most popular resorts hereabouts. After May 10 the New Jersey Central's Atlantic City Express, which leaves New York at 3:40 P. M., will make connection at Whiting for Beach Haven, and the time consumed is but 2:55 minutes. If you are interested, write to C. M. Burt, G. P. A., New York, for Beach Haven books.

—Clark-Scoville Notes: The guessing contest, creating the most words from the letters in "A Country Kid," elicited 1,604 answers in Connecticut. It caused no end of comment, and the competition was most lively. James Lewis joined, and at once installed himself as a favorite. Leslie Smith has gone to New York in the interest of "A Country Kid." The vacancy was filled by Stanley Wilkes, formerly a dance representative of "M. Friend from India" Co. The summer repertory will consist mainly of comedies. Some of our plays are as follows: "Broken Barriers," "A Moral Conquest," "The Silent Partner," "Foxy Uncle," and "The Far West." Business continues at top notch. Crowded houses prevailed nightly, and all indications point to a most prosperous summer season.

—Smith O'Brien, in "The Game Keeper," under the direction of Rowland & Clifford, closed a season of thirty-nine weeks on May 10, at the Garden Theatre, Chicago. The following students of the American School of Opera, Wm. G. Stewart, director, for the Morrissey English Opera Co., at the Grand Opera House, New York, and Sinclair Gore for the same organization; Walter Wheatley, as "leading tenor," and George W. New York; Zettl Kennedy, for the Robinson Opera Co., at the New Star Theatre, New York; Andreas Schneider, basso, and Freda Busing, for the William G. Stewart Opera Co., at the Providence Opera House, Providence, R. I.; Madison Smith, for the Castle Square Opera Co., at the Boston Music Hall, Boston, and Edna Stern, leading contralto for the Grand Opera House, New York.

—The Daniel R. Ryan Co. will not close season until July 19, at Halifax, N. S. The roster of the company is as follows: Daniel Ryan, Harry Norton, Howard J. Kilwood, H. L. Waterhouse, Wayne Campbell, George Felix, E. A. Rafter, John P. Peck, Walter Morrison, Chas. Meyerhold, George Forrest, M. F. Francis, Gertrude Dion Magill, Ella Cameron, Alice Fleming, Phyllis Gilmore, Edith Clinton, Stella Lyon, Jennette Howell, Little Elsie, W. S. Bates, manager.

—Emma Madden has resigned her position at the Grand Avenue Theatre, Philadelphia, and will not be a member of the company next season. Miss Madden has played the grand dames and character roles there for seven seasons.

—E. W. Presbury has been engaged by Liebler & Co. to stage their production of "The Libby Belles" Co., in which play she received numerous commendatory press notices for her excellent work as the inspiring girl, has been engaged to fill the part in "The New Yorkers," which Anna McLaughlin previously played. Miss Middleton opened with the company in Boston on May 12.

—June Brooks has closed a season of thirty-eight weeks with Bennett & Moulton, and will spend her vacation at her home in Brookline, Mass. During the four weeks of illness of Marion Francis, of the Bennett-Moulton Co., the substitute roles were played by Miss Brooks with great success.

—The Demorest Comedy Co. opens its summer engagement at the Academy of Music, Charleston, S. C., on May 19, for an indefinite run. It is one of the strongest repertory companies in the South. The roster: Robert Demorest, owner and manager; J. C. Williams, F. H. Williams, J. A. Herbert, Duke Myers, Johnnie Williams, Prof. T. C. Gafferey, Oona Demorest, Marie Williams, Fannie Williams, May Williams and Master Leo Demorest.

—Olga Wood closed the season May 3 as leading lady with one of the Bennett-Moulton attractions, and is at present visiting her husband, Edgar Lewis, with the Chas. R. Hampden Stock Co. Mr. Hampden and his company will tour New England this summer.

—Ullie Akerstrom writes from Belliere, O., on May 10: "We close our season here tonight. Business on the whole has been very good, with the exception of the few days when we passed through the unprecedented blizzard of the 2nd and 3rd inst. We have established a good reputation out here, and our engagements in this vicinity will be largely return dates. Nearly every one of the present company has been re-engaged."

—Annie Lloyd, who made a success as "Totsie" in the "Glorious Girl" Co., closed in Chicago week of April 7.

—Edw. Wertley and wife, Mabel Palmer, have been playing through North Carolina with their own company, "Santago," to big success. Mr. Wertley is at present arranging the management of five theatres in North Carolina. Mabel Palmer has met with great success all through the South, and closes there May 15.

—J. E. English, manager of the Kentucky Theatre, Paducah, Ky., writes THE CLIPPER under date of May 8: "Viola Allen's advance sale for 'In the Palace of the King' tonight is over $1,500. We put the sale on yesterday at ten o'clock, and by two hours later the sale was over $1,000. She will do close to $2,000 here tonight, for one performance. This being so remarkable for a one night stand the size of Paducah, we write regarding it."

—Notes from the Goodwin-Young Dramatic Co.: We closed our winter season at Hancock, Md., on April 10, and opened the summer season under canvas April 12. Business has been fine. We are playing over the territory where we made a decided success last season, and are breaking all former records. The large pavilion is filled to its capacity, and the S. R. O. sign is displayed at eight o'clock every night. Everyone is in the best of health and spirits. Roster: Jack Goodwin, Edgar Young, Earl Stanton, Flora Nelson, and Maude De Longe. Orchestra: Prof. King, leader; Earl Brannon, Carl Zinn, Billy Comstock and Bert Reede. We will continue through the summer in West Virginia.

—Baby Josephine, of the Payton Sisters, celebrated her seventh birthday at the Grand Opera House, San Antonio, Tex., on May 5. She was the recipient of a gold ring with valuable setting from the family; a pretty watch from the company, and a poem, by W. H. Hartigan, written for the occasion. From the patrons of the theatre she received a number of floral tributes.

—Martineti and Sutherland have signed with "Zig Zag Alley" Co. for next season.

—Jack Sutton has been engaged by Manager Len Miller to play the character part of Uncle Tom in G. H. Smith's Big Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. He joined at Eastport, Me.

—Hubert Labadie's "Faust" Co. closed a season of thirty-eight weeks in Garrett City, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Labadie are visiting in Detroit for a few weeks, as the guests of their brother, Joseph Labadie, the poet.

—Helena Folger will head her own company this season, under the management of J. W. Leigh, presenting "East Lynne," "Camille" and "Article 47." The company will play one and three night stands.

—Edwin H. Cullen, who has been very successful in character roles with the Spooner Stock Co., will spend his summer with relatives in Philadelphia. He is re-engaged with the Spooner Co. for next season.

—The Adelaide Thurston Co. closed the season at Grand Rapids, Mich., May 10. W. G. Wignin and Wignin have joined Chas. H. Boyle's "Star Boarder" for the balance of the season. They were with Frecht's Comic Players up to the recent stranding of that company.

—Manager A. G. Delamater, through his attorney, M. Strassman, has filed a petition in bankruptcy. There are about seventy-five creditors, and the liabilities aggregate $7,000.

—Wm. O. Chamberlin has signed with the Chas. F. Edwards Stock Co. for next season, to play juveniles, leads and gentle heavies, making his third season under Mr. Edwards' management.

—M. R. Williams, manager of the Williams Stock Co., has closed his attraction, and is now manager and general agent of Car No. 1 of the Darling & Deonzo Brothers' Consolidated Railroad Shows.

—"The Prince and the Peasant," a comic opera, book by Frank Matheis, music by Harold Orlow, was given its first production on any stage May 5, at the Salt Lake Theatre, Salt Lake, Utah.

—W. F. Burch has taken the general management of the Opera House, Greenville, N. C., for 1902-1903.

—"Zig Zag Alley," introducing Zeb and Zarrow, will be complete in every department of W. E. Plack, who was for the past nine years manager of Byrne Bros. "Eight Belles" Co. People already under contract include: The Zeb and Zarrow Trio, Dama Bros., Seiger Sisters, Nantasket Quartet, Ella Shields, Sadie Connolly and Ben T. Dillon. A chorus of sixteen handsome ladies will be carried. Walter Floyd, who is associated with Mr. Plack in this enterprise, will be in advance, with two assistants. The season will open Aug. 11, at the Bijou Theatre, Pittsburg.

—Daniel Harkins, the veteran actor who was stricken with aphasia during the first performance of "The Last Appeal" at Wallack's, has been taken to Beaverkill, in Sullivan County. It is said that his recovery is certain.

—Elie De Rock writes: "I have been enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Downie McPhee at Medina, N. Y. Mr. McPhee is certainly a great hustler and an indefatigable worker, and certainly deserves success. It matters not how busy he is he always has time for a joke and a pleasant word. His wife is a most charming hostess."

—Notes from Ewing & Taylor Co.: We closed the most successful season in our career at Cape Girardeau, Mo., on April 26. The fourth annual tour of Gertrude Ewing and Albert Taylor will begin at Shreveport, La., on Aug. 10. We are booked in the cities of the South, and will give complete scenic productions of a repertory of standard plays, with high class vaudeville between the acts. Our attraction next season will be the largest and most complete that we have ever carried. Scenery is being painted and new paper is being made, and the costumes will also be brand new.

—Lou Middleton, who closed on May 3 a season's engagement with "The Liberty Belles" Co., in which play she received numerous commendatory press notices for her excellent work as the inspiring girl, has been engaged to fill the part in "The New Yorkers," which Anna McLaughlin previously played. Miss Middleton opened with the company in Boston on May 12.

—June Brooks has closed a season of thirty-eight weeks with Bennett & Moulton, and will spend her vacation at her home in Brookline, Mass. During the four weeks of illness of Marion Francis, of the Bennett-Moulton Co., the substitute roles were played by Miss Brooks with great success.

—The Demorest Comedy Co. opens its summer engagement at the Academy of Music, Charleston, S. C., on May 19, for an indefinite run. It is one of the strongest repertory companies in the South. —W. F. Burch has taken the general management of the Opera House, Greenville, N. C., for 1902-1903.

—Alfred J. Russell writes: "My wife (Lillian Cavitt) and I closed a pleasant season of ten weeks in stock at the Lyceum Theatre, Pueblo, Col., on May 10, and will put in the summer months with a road company. Mrs. Russell has become a decided favorite in Pueblo. From her first appearance the newspapers and theatregoers in general have had nothing but praise for the artistic and pleasing manner in which she has handled the soubrette and ingenue roles in which she has been cast. We have been urged to return here next year, but it is not likely that we shall, for I am preparing to abandon the role of actor and begin a managerial tour next fall, opening in August in Missouri, with the strongest and best equipped repertory company that has ever played the Middle States. Will carry twelve acting people, appropriate scenery for every production, and special paper throughout."

—George C. Tyler, of Liebler & Co., sailed for Europe last week. He has closed a contract with E. M. Holland, who will impersonate the Pope of Rome in Hall Caine's "Eternal City," a very elaborate production of which is to be made by Liebler & Co. for Viola Allen next season. This is the third notable engagement made for Miss Allen's support in "The Eternal City." David Edwards, who will play the role of the Duke, and Frederic de Belleville will impersonate Baron Bonelli. The MSS. of "The Eternal City" is practically now all in hand, but Miss Allen and Mr. Caine, however, will be in Rome together this summer. Miss Allen accompanying Mr. Caine. Hall Caine, thither, soon after her arrival in London, and their efforts will be united in such revision of the play as it is thought may be needed.

—The new book, by Alan Dale, the dramatic critic, entitled "The Girl Who Wrote," will be published by Quill & Warren in June.

—Florence G. Booth, soubrette and ingenue, will close a successful season with Hoyt's Comedy Co. in Alton, Ill., on May 18, and will spend the summer at her home in St. Louis.

—George H. Ricketts, who was successful on Long Island last summer with his stock company, contemplates a second tour.

—Ethel Barrymore and Elsie de Wolfe sailed for Southampton last week. Miss de Wolfe will go to the theatre, where she will be the guest of Mme. Eames for a month or so. She then intends to go to her home at Versailles. Miss Barrymore will go to Venice for a while, and then to London for the coronation. She will return to America with the part of August, to make a new part in a new play by Clyde Fitch, called "The Flirt."

—Geo. Chapman will be with De Wolf Hopper next season.

—Aubrey Boucicault has been engaged to support "The Merchant of Venice" with the company on May 19.

—Irene Perry has been engaged for the soubrette role in "The Defender," which will be produced in Boston shortly.

—Robert B. Mantell, who has finished a most successful road season under the management of M. H. Henley, opened his annual Spring engagement at the Grand Opera House, Toronto, Can., on May 5, and, judging by the large audiences that witnessed "Richelleu" and "Hamlet," the first week's bills, there is every possibility that he will repeat the success which marked his engagement in the Canadian city last season. There is no actor more popular in Toronto, Can., than Mr. Mantell.

—"The Suburban" a new melodrama, by C. T. Dazey, was given its first production on a stock stage at the Chicago Theatre, Tuesday night, May 6. It was enthusiastically received.

—Milka Terkina, of the Metropolitan Opera Co., sailed for Europe last week. She will not return to America next season. She is the principal attraction of the Imperial Opera House, in Vienna.

—Andreas Dippel, of the Metropolitan Opera Co., has left America to go to Carlsbad and Vienna, and will return to the United States for an extended concert tour next season.

—Pupils of the American School of Opera sang "Carmen" at the concluding meeting of the May festival at New Haven, Conn., last week.

—John S. Shea joined Marks Bros.' Dramatic Co. May 10, at Almonte, Ont., to do his singing and dancing specialty and play parts.

—J. C. Rockwell, the well known New England repertory manager, who has been in New York since March 25, seriously ill, is now convalescent, and will open his regular summer season on May 26.

—J. W. West, general agent for Lloyd & Genter's Eclipse Stock Co., writes: "It has been reported that I had closed to join the Harris Show or the Feet Bros. Circus, which was untrue. I have signed for the summer, making my fourth season with the Eclipse, and still doing well. Next season I will launch Ward and West's Old Reliable Georgia Minstrels, Hi Tom Ward and J. W. West, sole owners and managers, and will tour the sunny South in our own private car 'Winchester.' We will use all special printing, and a fine automobile band wagon for parade."

—J. Cheever Goodwin, the librettist, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $1,617 and books, $25, which are exempt. There are fifty-nine creditors named, to whom he owes amounts ranging from $3 to $895.

—The youngest daughter of the late Dan Rice, the old time showman, is of the estate of the "Nancy Girls" in the "Hall of Fame" production at the New York Theatre.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Botsford (Della Mae Wilson) will close a season of forty-one weeks with the Van Dyke & Eaton Co., at Fairmount, W. Va., on May 17. They have been re-engaged for next season, and will rest this summer.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

—Washington.—The Lafayette closed its season with the end of last week, having been occupied by the Bellows Stock Co. for thirty odd weeks very profitably, and to the entire satisfaction of our playgoers. The company goes direct to Denver, Col., where it opens a summer engagement. The Harry Corson Comedy Stock Co. presented "His Absent Boy" last week at the Columbia, to excellent business and the best of satisfaction. "A Romance of Coon Hollow" had a fair following at the Academy of Music. At Chase's Theatre the Miyo San Musical Comedy Co. was the top liner to a first class National Theatre, but owing to insufficient preliminary advertising the patronage was less than the entertainment deserved. The announcements for this and next week are as follows:

—NATIONAL THEATRE (W. H. Rapley, manager).—This week, James T. Powers in "The Messenger Boy," a supplemental engagement.

—ACADEMY OF MUSIC (A. W. Herman, manager).—This week, the initial performance of Sherwood & Denham's "Joan of Arc," an adaptation by Will A. Page of a melodrama written by Edward Fitzball and produced in London, Eng., in 1822. "East Lynne" 19-24.

—COLUMBIA THEATRE (Luckett & Dwyer, managers).—This week, the third of the season of Harry Corson Comedy Co. in "Why Marry Left Home."

—CHASE'S THEATRE (H. Winnifred De Witt, manager).—This week, Weber & Fields' "Fiddle-Dee-Dee."

—LYCEUM THEATRE (Eugene Kernan, manager).—This week, Rose Sydel's London Belles. Watson's Oriental Burlesquers 19-24.

—NOTES.—The largest advance sale of the season at the Academy of Music occurred last week for Sherwood & Denham's "Joan of Arc." The scale of prices at the Columbia Theatre have been reduced for the summer season 50 and 25 cents. . . . This week the management of the Lafayette passes into the hands of the syndicate headed by E. D. Stair, but will not be opened till the regular Fall and Winter season of 1902-3 begins.

PENNSYLVANIA.

—Philadelphia.—Six of the local theatres, the Garrick, Auditorium, Standard, Empire, Eleven Street Opera House and the Star, are now closed for the summer, while one more, the Broad, which had already ended its regular season, is reopened for the current week only for a special engagement. Despite the lateness of the season, the open houses have been doing very well during the past week, a spell of cold weather undoubtedly assisting materially in achieving the favorable results. Among the offerings for the current week is the first production in America of a successful English musical comedy, this event occurring at the Chestnut Street Opera House (Nixon & Zimmerman, managers).—This house is reopened for the current week for the special week's engagement of Henry Ludlum and his company. Mr. Ludlum, who conducts a school of acting in this city during the season, is seen in revival of "The Merchant of Venice," "Richelleu" and "Othello."

—CHESTNUT STREET OPERA HOUSE (Nixon & Zimmerman, managers).—It was the original intention of S. S. Shubert and Nixon & Zimmerman to make the first American production of "A Chinese Honey-moon" at the Casino in New York. The difficulty over the lease of that house has caused a change of plans, and this city is to have the honor of first viewing this production on this side of the water. Among the well known people in the cast are: S. S. Shubert, Edwin Stevens, Wm. Pruett, Van Rensselaer Wheeler, Wm. Burress, Adela Ritchie, Amelia Stone, Toby Cadogan, Annie Yeamans, Grace Cameron, Katie Barry and Amie Angeles. William H. Crane terminated his long and satisfactory engagement in "David Harum" last Saturday night.

—CHESTNUT STREET THEATRE (Nixon & Zimmerman, managers).—Miss Bob White, rewritten and with Marguerite Sylva in the title role, returns to this house this week for a short engagement. The termination of the engagement of "The Messenger Boy" last week saw no diminution in the attendance, the audiences continuing large and enthusiastic to the end.

—WALNUT STREET THEATRE (Frank Howe Jr., manager).—There is no change announced in the present arrangement at this house. "My Antonette" continuing to please audiences of excellent size. Several new songs have been introduced to freshen the performance.

—AUDITORIUM (J. Bard Worrell, manager).—This house terminated its season with the performance on last Saturday night. The house was very well patronized, and it has already been announced that E. D. Stair takes the house next season.

—PARK THEATRE (F. G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, manager).—"Lovers' Lane" is left undisturbed at this house, where it is enjoying the favor of audiences of excellent size. The end of the engagement is not yet announced.

—NATIONAL THEATRE (Joseph M. Kelly, manager).—For this, the last week of the season at this house, the offering is "A Jolly American Tramp," for the first time here. Audiences of satisfactory size attended the performance of "East Lynne" last week, by Eliza Proctor Otis and company.

—PEOPLE'S THEATRE (F. G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, manager).—Jesse James, in "Across the Plains," is the current offering at this house. "When London Sleeps" met with favor last week.

—FOREPAUGH'S THEATRE (Wm. W. Miller, manager).—"The Idler" is being presented by the stock company of this house this week. All the favorites are seen in the cast, which appears to be a strong one. The powerful rendition of "The Conquerors" last week aroused the patrons to thorough appreciation, which took the form of liberal attendance. "A Bunch of Keys" is in rehearsal for the coming week.

—GIARD AVENUE THEATRE (Durban & Sheeler, managers).—Treston Clarke continues as star of this house, being this week supported by the stock company in a revival of "The Merchant of Venice." There was no doubt left of the success of this engagement, and the production of "Othello," last week, for the patrons kept the house crowded and roomed for a week with a warmth that left no ground for doubt. It has been arranged to extend the engagement to three weeks instead of two, as originally planned, and next week "The Lady of Lyons" will be given, with Creston Clarke as Claude Melnotte.

—STANDARD THEATRE (Darcy & Speck, managers).—The regular season at this house ends with the performances last week. The house remains open, however, the first two days of this week, for a benefit for the employees of the house. The stock company appears in "A Life's Revenge," and several vaudeville features are given.

—KITTY'S (John Keirns, resident manager).—Heading the bill at this house this week are the Meers, Hugh Stanton and Florence Modena, in "For Reform." Press Eldridge, and Lew Simmons and Frank White. Entertainment is also furnished by Bedini and Arthur, the De Forests, Joe Flynn, Kennedy and Rooney, Markey and Stewart, Twin Nices, Rae and Benedetto, Louis Granat, the Brothers Van, and the biograph. Warm or cold, rain or shine, the people crowd this house, last week being no exception to this rule.

—GIARD AVENUE THEATRE (N. Hashim, manager).—Lafayette continues to hold the boards at this house, presenting "The Lion's Bride," the Lafayette-Souslan Band of forty pieces and his imitation of Ching Ling Foo. The other entertainers on the bill are clever, and that the public appreciate this clever entertainment at the low prices is attested by the good size of the audiences.

—ELEVENTH STREET OPERA HOUSE (Frank Dumont, manager).—Dumont's Minstrels ended its season at this house last week, the patrons turning out in force at the last opportunities to see the amusing burlesques. The company goes on a week's tour of nearby towns this week, after which it disbands for the summer.

—LYCEUM THEATRE (John G. Jermon, manager).—Miner's The Devil's Daughter Company furnishes the entertainment for the patrons of this house this week. Highly satisfactory results were achieved by the Trans-Atlantic last week.

—TRICADRO (Floyd Lauman, manager).—At this house this week the boards are held by the Innocent Reunites Company, the olio including: Weston and Mills, Frank and Monroe, Constance Windom, Three English Madcaps, Tascott, and Kessner and Bennett. The patrons, who attended last week's performances in large numbers, were delighted with the Dainty Parce Burlesquers.

—KENNINGTON THEATRE (John Hart, manager).—The patrons of this house are cared for this week by the Parisian Widows Company, furnishing an enjoyable bill of burlesque and vaudeville. The New Henry Burlesquers succeeded in attracting excellent audiences last week. Next week, the Dainty Duchesse.

—NINTH AND ARCH MUSEUM (C. A. Braden, manager).—Among the features of the curio hall at this house this week are: Sober Sue, who cannot be made to laugh; the Klondike camp, the female boxing tournament, Morris Randolph, musical artist; C. W. Mack, humorist, and George and Harry Burns, bag punching. Vaudeville entertainment in the theatre is furnished by May Walsh, Roger and Belle Dolan, J. W. Waller, Gold and Pyle, Alice Magill, Williams and Williams, and the cinematograph.

—NOTES.—Laura Nelson Hall has been specially engaged for the production of "The Idler," at Forepaugh's, this week. . . . It is announced that the National Theatre will begin next season on Aug. 16, with "The Devil's Auction." . . . Buffalo Bill's Wild West gives daily afternoon and evening exhibitions this week at Twenty-seventh and Master Streets, and also a street parade Monday morning.

—Pittsburg.—At the Alvin Theatre (Nixon & Zimmerman, managers).—Mrs. Patrick Campbell is making her local debut and presenting a varied repertory. The Bostonians sang merrily last week George and Harry Burns, bag punching. Vaudeville entertainment in the theatre is furnished by May Walsh, Roger and Belle Dolan, J. W. Waller, Gold and Pyle, Alice Magill, Williams and Williams, and the cinematograph.

—GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Harry Davis, manager).—"Leah, the Forsaken," has been elaborately revived for one week. "Don Cesar de Bazan" drew an attendance and commendation last week. "Prince Karl" is in rehearsal for May 19.

—BIJOU THEATRE (Stair & Haviland, syndicate managers).—"A Homespun Heart" is beating. "A Jolly American Tramp" tramped away 10. "A Ragged Hero" is expected to arrive 10.

—EMPIRE THEATRE (E. J. McCullough, manager).—"The Murray-Lane Comic Opera Company" is filling a week's engagement here, which all our burghers are prepared to enjoy. For the opening week a double bill is announced, "The Pirates of Penzance" and "Cavalleria Rusticana." "Fiddle-Dee-Dee" packed the house at every performance last week.

—DUQUENNE THEATRE (Harry W. Williams, manager).—"For the current week a very strong vaudeville bill is announced, comprising such well known stars as the Tenchi Troupe, the Ellmore Sisters, Linton and McIntyre, Duffy, Sawtelle and Duffy, Leah Russell, Eddie Mack, Chas. L. Fletcher and others. The S. R. O. sign had to be displayed at several performances last week after the performance of "Penzance" and "Cavalleria Rusticana." (James W. Conant, manager).—There has been an immense demand for seats for the current engagement of the Weber & Fields All Star Stock Co., which is presenting "Holly Tolly," for the first time here. Nothing is as yet understood as to follow. Victor Herbert and his Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra closed a big engagement 10.

—HARRY WILLIAMS' ACADEMY OF MUSIC (Harry W. Williams, manager).—Robie's Knickerbocker Burlesquers are here this week. The Merry Madams gambled merrily before large crowds last week.

—NOTES.—Elaborate preparations are being made at the Grand Opera House for the first American production of J. I. C. Clarke's new play, "Lady Godiva," which was produced in London April 23, for copyright purposes. June 2 has been selected as the date of the first American production, and Sarah Truax will create the title role in this country. . . . Frank J. Harris is now ably filling the position of assistant treasurer at the Grand Opera House.

—Harrisburg.—The past week was somewhat spasmodic. One local benefit and two cten dates made it one of the slowest weeks of the season.

—GRAND OPERA HOUSE (N. Appell, manager).—"The Innocent" made a splendid May 6, and the return engagement of "Miss Bob White," 6, was a big success, the opera scoring a greater hit than on the first presentation, due to the changes made. Frank Deshon, who is a great favorite here, was given a warm welcome, and was entertained after the house performance. The house was 7, 8. Keene, magician, made a big hit 9. He will close his season in about three weeks, and will return to his home at Chambersburg, where he will take up work on a number of new features for next season. The week ended with a local production, "The Harriaburgers," which proved a financial success. The week of 12 will be given up to the Keystone Dramatic Company.

—NOTES.—Ellen M. Stone appears at the Board of Trade Auditorium 15. . . . Pawnee Bill will open his season at Central Pennsylvania at Wayneboro, 23. . . . Miss Grant Foreman, of the "Our Minister" Company, is at home, at Upton, for the summer.

GOLDEN GATE GLEANINGS.

"The Second in Command," "Aristocracy," "Lost-24 Hours," "The World," and "Reilly and the 400" Are the New Current Bills—Good Business Rules.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK CLIPPER. SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—At the Columbia Theatre John Drew opened last night a two weeks' engagement, presenting "The Second in Command" before a packed house. CALIFORNIA THEATRE.—The James Neill Co. presented "Aristocracy" to the usual good business.

ALCANTARA THEATRE.—"Lost, 24 Hours," was the bill given by the stock last night.

CENTRAL THEATRE.—"The World" is this week's bill, and the opening last night was to good attendance. Will H. Bray is now a member of the company.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—Edward Harrigan began last night his third week as stock star, presenting "Reilly and the 400."

TIVOLI OPERA HOUSE.—The second week of "The Singing Girl" began last night, with business still good.

FISCHER'S THEATRE.—"Fiddle-Dee-Dee" began last night its sixth week, with business still at high water mark. "Pousse Cafe" is down for an early production. Charlotte Vidot and Freda Gallick will then become members of the company.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.—New people opening Sunday, 11: Lew Sully, Mr. and Mrs. Keley, Mlle. Chester and her statue dogs, and Jas. F. Kelly and Dorothy Kent.

CHUTES.—The current bill includes: Wilton Bros., Jack Symonds and Susie Fisher, the Clipper Quartette, Petching Bros., Gorman and Keppler, Fred Stuber, Grant and Grant, Sadie Hart, Tom Almond and the animatroscope. Business continues phenomenal.

FROM OTHER POINTS.

"A Chinese Honeymoon" Received Its Initial Rendering in America at the Chestnut Street Opera House, Philadelphia, on May 12—Attractions Prosper Everywhere.

BOSTON, May 13.—Weather was conducive to good openings. Dan Daly, in "The New Yorkers," had a full house at the Museum and was accorded a big greeting. "Robin Hood" was presented at the Boston by the Bostonians, to a large gathering. Anna Held, in "The Little Duchess," at the Hollis, and "The Stroller," at the Colonial, were continued attractions, to excellent business. "Two Little Vagrants" did well at the Grand Opera. A good performance of "Ingomar" was given by the Castle Square stock, to good houses. The usual crowd saw the stock offering at the Bowdoin Square. Keith's and Music Hall's bills contained many strong acts, and large crowds were attracted. The burlesque houses and museums appeared to be doing their regular opening business.

CHICAGO, May 13.—The week opened strong. "Florodora" began at the Illinois with a packed house, and made a tremendous hit. Masonic Temple Roof Theatre opened Sunday, with a great audience. Grace George continued at the Grand, with moderate business. Annie Russell, at Powers, held over, with four-fifths business. "The Suburban" remained at McVicker's, with capacity business. "Shore Acres" began a Summer run at the Great Northern, with fine business. The Sultan of Sulu continued at the Studebaker, with a well filled house. The Columbus, New American and Alhambra all started strong, and other outlying houses did almost as well. The Kohl & Casale houses began with the usual big business. Jack's and the Trocadero began with snug houses, while Hopkins got a fair start.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Sherwood & Denham's spectacular drama, "Joan of Arc," received its initial production last night, at the Academy of Music. It is an adaptation of a play of the same title, originally written and produced in London in 1822, by Edward Fitzball, but now brought down and made to conform to modern requirements by Will A. Page, formerly dramatic editor of The Washington Post. Interesting from the rising of the first curtain through four acts and seven scenes, the climax is reached at the final burning at the stake of the heroine, the latter effect, which is most realistic, being the invention of Morgan L. Sherwood, of this city. The production was in every particular successful, and fully merits the recognition it received at the hands of the crowded audiences which witnessed it. James T. Powers, in "The Messenger Boy," had a large and delighted audience at the National. Harry Corson Clarke and Comedy Co., at the Columbia, presented "Why Smith Left Home," to a crowded audience. Weber & Fields' "Fiddle-Dee-Dee" Co. was a potent card at Chase's, calling for two packed audiences and the most perfect satisfaction. Rose Sydel's London Belles filled and satisfied two full houses yesterday, at the Lyceum. The Lafayette and Empire are dark this week.

PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—The principal feature of last night's offerings was "A Chinese Honeymoon," which received its first American production at the Opera House, and received an ovation from a crowded audience. There is plenty of good music, a remarkably clever company, and scenery and costumes, which were a delight to the eye. Allowing proper discount for first night enthusiasm, the production still promises to be a heavy winner. "Miss Hob White" drew an excellent audience at the Chestnut. Henry Ludlum attracted a goodly number to the Broad. "My Antoinette," at the Walnut, and "Lovers Lane," at the Park, continue to meet favor. "A Jolly American Tramp," at the National, "Across the Plains," at the People's, popular priced offerings. The stock houses had the usual full appreciation. Keith entertained large numbers, and Lafayette continued to create fun at the Grand. Burlesque houses were not neglected, and museum fared well.

MILWAUKEE, May 13.—The last week of the Castle Square Opera company opened with a packed house. "The Mikado" was presented, with a strong cast. Academy, the Thanhouse favorites scored heavily, in "The Iron Master." Alhambra, "Maloney's Wedding Day" drew two good sized audiences Sunday. The Milano Trio took the house by storm. Bijou, "The Volunteer Organist" won approval for a well filled house. Star, Miss New York Jr. opened to capacity, and more than made good.

KANSAS CITY, May 13.—"Jack and the Beanstalk" opened at the Grand, to a fair matinee, yesterday, and had a good house at night. The Woodward Stock Company started in on their second week of "Quo Vadis" at the Auditorium yesterday, to good business. At the Gills two enthusiastic audiences were present to see "Legally Dead." Richard Mansfield comes to the Auditorium Friday and Saturday.

CINCINNATI, May 13.—Weber & Fields' All Stars presented "Holly Tolly," to one overflowing house and another of excellent size, at the Pike. The Herman-Buhler Company put on "Camille" at Heuck's, to fair business. Edna Aug was welcomed to the Columbia by a good sized house. At the People's Clarke's New Royals opened well.

LOUISVILLE, May 13.—The first performance of the new stock company at the Temple Theatre was given Sunday. The opening play was "Sapho." Robert McWade, in "Rip Van Winkle," opened Sunday at the Avenue, to fair attendance. Al Reeves' company, at the Buckingham, attracted good houses Sunday.

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—There is a dearth in attractions this week. The Columbia is still open, and doing quite a business. Fanny Rice and Musical Dale are featured. At Havlin's Katie Emmett, in "Waifs of New York," and at the Odeon Creators' Royal Italian Band are the only other attractions.

CANADA.—(See Page 272).

Montreal.—At the Academy—One of the best attractions that has been to this city for some time was the presentation of "If I Were King." It did a good business. Due to Louis Mann and Clara Lipman 12-17, "Morocco Bound" 19-24.
"FRANCAIS"—"The Evil Eye" did well 5-10. "East Lynne" will be here 12-17, with "The American Gentleman" to follow.
ROYAL.—"The King Dramatic Co. deserved better encouragement 5-10, with their representation of "A Ward of France," nevertheless the company intends to stay two weeks longer, putting on "The Sporting Duchess" 12-17.
PROCTOR'S—"Innocent as a Lamb" was put on week of 5, with good returns. The living pictures and moving pictures are still given as extra features.
MONTREAL'S HORSE SHOW. 6-10, was a success. Thursday afternoon was the "gala" afternoon, the Governor General being present.

NOTES.—"Morocco Bound" closes the season at the Academy of Music. The many friends of H. Percy Hill will be sorry to hear that he is suffering from a foot complaint. The Forepaugh-Sells Circus will enter Canada at Sherbrooke, June 28. Their Montreal dates are June 30, July 1. Somer Park will open its season May 25. The management has been fortunate in securing Albert, the well known ballet director of New York with twenty-four girls. It is the intention to run this with vaudeville.

London.—At the Grand (J. F. Cairns, manager) "Alphonse and Gaston" received its first production here May 8. The company up to May 3 had been presenting "Are You a Buffalo?" It is a very clever knock-about farce, and contains the elements of success. The costumes are handsome and the scenery very picturesque. Louis Mann and Clara Lipman, who gave their initial London audience 6, and gave a delightful performance of "All on Account of Eliza." Watkins Mills, 9, had a poor house.

Belleville.—At the Carmen Opera House (F. Adams, manager) "The Evil Eye" filled the house from top to bottom April 28. Martin's "T. C." Co. had good business 80. W. Kin Miller Concert Co. May 5, had a large audience. "The Royal Box" 8, drew fairly well. Due to Alpine Yodlers 9, 10, Wesley Concert Co. 13, Sousa's Band 22.

Guelph.—At the Royal Opera House (O. H. Manning, manager) "Pinafore," by local talent, did fairly well May 8. The house was sold out in advance for the Westminster Abbey Choir and Glee Party 10. Due to "The Royal Box," for Manager Manning's benefit, 16.

ALABAMA.

Mobile.—At the Mobile Theatre (J. Tanenbaum, manager) the Crescent Stock Co. in repertory came May 5-12, at popular prices, to fair business.
MONROE PARK THEATRE (Mike McDermott, manager).—The Robson Theatre Co. drew large and delighted audiences 5-12, changing bill and specialties twice weekly.
AMERICAN THEATRE ("Ollie" Hamilton, mgr.)—This house had large audiences this week, with the following new faces: Dryden, Walker and Dryden, Ed. Jordan, Filmore and Sherwood, Liska Spencer, De Esta Sisters, the Moores, and Thomas and La Marr. Coming week of 12, Ton Karo and Yeddo.

NOTES.—Prof. C. W. Oldreive, the man who walks on the water, is in this city, making arrangements for an exhibition at a near date. Frank Kendall, last Summer with the Jefferson Stock Co., was a visitor here last week, being a member of the Crescent Stock Co. "The Confederate Spy" Co. leaves here Sunday, 11, and opens at Breton, Ala., 12, under canvas.

Martin Harvey will appear in New York next October, under the direction of Klaw & Erlanger, in "The Children of the King," and a repertory which will include "The Only Way," "The Cigarette Maker's Romance" and Rev. Freeman Willis' "After All," a new version of "Eugene Aram."

Miscellaneous.

NOTES FROM THE ROSCO BILL DOG AND PONY SHOW. Dr. W. H. Goodenough, sole owner and manager.—We have been out three weeks, and business has been more than good since our opening, considering the cold nights. The following people are all very successful: W. H. Goodenough's troupe of trained dogs and ponies, who are certainly setting the natives wild; the Wallace, Pearl and Art, sketch team; Signor Baltino, juggler; Dan McConnell, clown; Minnie Goodenough, a charge of ticket-woman, and our band led by Dan Keane, makes the people stare. Our new 50x80 waterproof tent is a work of art, and is in charge of De Shep, with three assistants. We all look forward to a prosperous season.

F. P. NICHOLSON is manager for the Fort Erie Park, Buffalo, N. Y., where a permanent Summer exposition will be conducted. The park is situated on Lake Erie, opposite Buffalo.

ROVING FRANK'S BIG GYPSY ATTRACTIONS are having a good business on the road, and several new ponies have been added to Camp No. 8. A new stock car has also been added, taking the place of the one that was damaged recently. All of Roving Frank's attractions will leave this country in November for a grand continental tour. Mr. Hubin's headquarters are located at the big village, Atlantic City, N. J.

NOTES FROM DR. F. W. STOOKY MEDICINE CO.—For the past three weeks we have been doing a rushing business and drawing the largest crowds ever in Gunnison, Miss. The show, which was led by the colored ventriloquist, has been doing remarkable work this season. Show will remain two weeks longer in Gunnison.

NOTES FROM THE OREGON INDIAN MEDICINE CO.—No. 47, Mondello & Robbins, managers. The show, which was led by the colored ventriloquist, has been doing remarkable work this season. Show will remain two weeks longer in Gunnison.

HARRY HELMS opened his Carnival of Wonders under canvas at Chicago on May 8. The show is located in and near Chicago, playing one week at each place.

M. FRED FERGUSON writes: "Have just completed the organization of the Ferguson Stock Co., of nine people for the present, but will enlarge to sixteen people before the season for the road opens. At present we are playing to good crowds in the parks. Our company is composed of the following people: M. Fred Ferguson, proprietor and manager; O. Mease, business manager; D. E. Swyer, stage manager; Wm. H. Fortner, master of props and mechanical effects; Edna Crosby, Chas. C. Reddick, musical director."

THE MILLAR BROS., with their new drama, are playing a most successful engagement at Gran Circo Teatro Orrin, City of Mexico, and are playing at the City of Mexico. The entire press of the Mexican metropolis paid high praise to the originality of the exhibition. They will return to New York in the near future.

NOTES FROM WINNINGER BROS.—We opened on May 8, with an entirely new outfit, at Tomahawk, Wis., with the following roster: The Winninger Family of eight, John and Grace Nelson, Marty Williams, Ed. Gamble, Phineas Pease, Joe Kuehler, Carl Raymond, Wm. Barchard, Clever Conkey, Ad. Brando, Helen Webster, Clara Conkey and Kittle Thomas. We carry a band of fourteen pieces, and will produce the same style of entertainment which proved such a success last year—vaudeville and drama.

COL. WM. F. CODY ("Buffalo Bill") offers to go into stock, to Capt. Charles Christman, an old time scout and guide, and his wife, a ranch of one hundred and sixty acres on the Shoshone River, near the National Park in Wyoming. The place is completely stocked. Capt. Christman served the government as a scout, and was a member of the "Custer and Troop," and settled in Denver. Of late years he has not been doing well financially.

SMITH AND BLANCHARD will play small towns until about the middle of June, when they will take out their big company for the Summer season. They will play at each place, and make picture machine. Roster of company: Bertha Blanchard, La Petite Amelia, Lena Reynolds, Willie Smith, Dick Carson, Charlie Smith, and the diving dog, "Sandy."

EVERYTHING is bustle and excitement at Ranchero Park, Butte, Mont. The Winter Circus of the "Dogs and Pony Show" The wagons, chariots and cages are undergoing repairs and receiving new coats of bright colors for the opening of the season, which will be about the middle of May, and the large family of ponies, dogs, monkeys, tigers, and other wild animals is among the happiest in the land.

JAMES W. PRICE, the aeronaut, has returned from Cuba. He intends to bring out his new invention, the Hemispher, at outdoor resorts during the Summer.

NOTES FROM DE ALVA'S BRITISH ENTERTAINERS.—We are now in Northern Ontario, playing to very good business. We have been in five years, and never missed a salary day, a record we are justly proud of. The roster is at present: Dr. E. H. De Alva, Mrs. E. H. De Alva, Pearl De Alva, Dick Barry, Dolly Barry, Harry Germaine. Our illustrated songs and songs and songs, with a picture machine. "Pro Met" orchestra and our trick donkey, "Alma," sixty-four years old. On May 20 we open under canvas; will use an 85 ft. R. T. Metra-trail will have charge of it. Mrs. De Alva presented her husband with a baby on April 29. All are well and happy.

NOTES FROM BOSCO ANIMAL SHOW.—We opened our fourteenth season on April 24, at Lamolite, Ill., to packed business, which has continued ever since. The show this season is a record breaker, and is the strongest ever seen by the natives along the line. The parade consists of twenty cages, one ticket and one band wagon. The route now booked will take us through the Middle States until the latter part of August, when the show will be shipped to California, to play that State during the Winter. Adam Fletcher, the famous animal trainer, is working Leo, the ferocious lion, which act is the feature of the show. Among the others are: Madame Weylock and her snakes, Gussie Meyers, with her trained lions; Capt. Ricardo, with his trained ponies, and others. A fish, the singing clown, keeps the audience in a roar with his funnysims. The band is in charge of Vernon Galster, and is a feature with the show. Galster and Moore are doing excellent work in the concert, with their musical act.

NOTES FROM "LAST DAYS OF POMPEII" will be the most elaborate open air spectacle ever witnessed outside of New York. It is promised. It opens the season at Nashville, Tenn., June 9, with Memphis and St. Louis to follow. It will be managed by H. B. Theatre, with O. E. Skiff as general agent. Over three hundred people will be carried, and more than twenty cars will be used in its transportation, as the company carries its remarkably large portable amphitheatre, seating nearly 50,000; its own electric light system, and scenery covering an area of five acres. A marvelous "fire ballet," hippodrome sports and the usual elaborate fair fireworks displays will be principal features of the big open air show.

NOTES FROM KING E. ZIMMER'S ROYAL AMERICAN SHOWS.—Business is up to our expectations, and everything works as though made to order. New additions are Collier and Collier, Fantasia Delmore, Orta and Mazaia, and Artier. Our band now consists of fourteen pieces, and just fills our beautiful band wagon, "The White Swan." We all visited the Great Ringling Shows, and can't praise them too highly. The weather is grand, and we look to a prosperous season.

CLIFTON REMEY CO., No. 17, now touring Illinois, opened their camp season May 6, to big business. Frank Raymond, proprietor; Dave Curtis, stage manager; Frank Wallace, eccentric and Dutch comedian; Frank Raymond, female impersonator; Lotta Curtis, soubrette; Charlie Sherman, Irish; Dave Curtis, black face and Dutch comedian; Little Ray Curtis, in con songs; Prof. Maurritus, lecturer and office worker.

"THE BURNING OF ROME" will be the title of Faine's big midsummer spectacle at Manhattan Beach, opening about the middle of June. The famous pyrotechnist announces that this season's production will be the masterpiece of his career.

MABEL HOCKNEY, one of the feminine rough riders of the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show, at Brooklyn, narrowly escaped death at the afternoon performance on May 8, by being thrown from her horse in a race with three other women. She was so badly hurt that she will probably be incapacitated for some time.

Tom Touss, the baby elephant with the Lockhart troupe, died on April 27 at Convention Hall, Kansas City.

NEW JERSEY.

Newark.—This week at the Newark Theatre (Lee Ottolengui, manager) the Corse Payton Stock Co. appears, with entire change of scenery, etc. Last week of the Corse Payton House Stock Co. demonstrated its sweeping popularity by filling the house to its capacity twice daily.

COLUMBIA THEATRE (M. J. Jacobs, manager).—Last week marked the close of the history of the Columbia Theatre Stock Co., as the house will be given over to combinations next season. "Camille" was given with charming effect, and large audiences made the final week prominent in the history of the company, which has been remarkably successful from first to last. The closing performance was given amid masses of flowers, and as a final call "Auld Lang Syne" was given with much feeling.

EMPIRE THEATRE (H. M. Hyams, manager).—"When London Sleeps," with its stirring sensation and realism, will attract the best audience here this week. "Dangers of Paris" closed its season here 10, and Manager Eldon Murray states that it has been one of gratifying results and success. Next week Una Abell Brinker, and most of the other members of the Columbia Theatre Stock Co., will begin a Spring engagement here of several weeks. The opening piece will be "Josephine, Empress of the French."

BLANEY'S THEATRE (Chas. E. Blaney, manager).—"The stock portage" "In Mizoura" this week and J. Henry Kolker appears to our advantage. "Du Barry" and "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" proved a heavy combination last week, but the stock gave due distinction, with good results. Next week will be divided between "A Night Off" and "The Merchant of Venice."

WALDMANN'S THEATRE (W. S. Clark, manager).—"The stock portage" "In Mizoura" this week and J. Henry Kolker appears to our advantage. "Du Barry" and "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" proved a heavy combination last week, but the stock gave due distinction, with good results. Next week will be divided between "A Night Off" and "The Merchant of Venice."

PROCTOR'S THEATRE (J. Austin Fynes, general manager).—Another sparkling bill offers varied entertainment here this week, and business shows a satisfactory increase. The features are: McIntyre and Heath, Jacques Inaudi, Geo. W. Day, Courtney and Dunn, Lea Reamonde, Carson and Willard, Chas. Fostelle, and the kalatechnoscope.

TRILE MUSIC HALL (John Bey, manager).—"The stock portage" "In Mizoura" this week and J. Henry Kolker appears to our advantage. "Du Barry" and "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" proved a heavy combination last week, but the stock gave due distinction, with good results. Next week will be divided between "A Night Off" and "The Merchant of Venice."

Elizabeth.—The Totten-Bateman Stock Company opened at the Lyceum Theatre May 5, for a four weeks' engagement, opening with "Moths," and closing 10 with "Carmen." The week's attendance was light, 12, "Two Orphans."

At JACOBS' THEATRE (G. W. Jacobs, manager).—"Her Lord and Master," booked for 5, canceled, and instead "My Friend the Devil" opened the week, to a small house. The performance was mediocre. Primrose & Dockstader's Minstrels came 8, to big business. "The Convict's Daughter" came 9, 10, for benefit of advertising staff, to good business. "East Lynne" came 12. The Gaily Girls 17.

Forepaugh-Sells' Circus is billed for 23, Washburne's Circus 17. The Lyceum Theatre has booked nearly the entire season of 1902-3 with the strongest melo and comedy dramas yet booked at this theatre. The cast will be generally well handled and painted, and many improvements made in the interior and exterior.

Paterson.—At the Opera House (John J. Goatschius, manager) "The Messiah," which was sung by local amateurs May 5, 6, had crowded houses. "My Friend the Devil" had only fair business 7, 8. Primrose & Dockstader's Minstrels played to standing room only 9, 10. Due to The Davidson Stock Co. 12-24.

Bijou Theatre (Mrs. Ben Leavitt, manager).—"The Innocent Beauties" Burlesque Co. closed a very successful week 10. The bookings: Hurtig & Seamon's Transatlantic Burlesques 12-17, Weber's Parisian Widows 19 and week.

Circus.—Forepaugh & Sells Bros. Circus exhibits here June 2.

Jersey City.—"Whose Baby Are You?" had fair good patronage at the Academy week ending May 10. "The Royal Box," splendidly presented at the Bijou by the Blaney Stock, proved popular, and the Bon Ton, with the Pan-American Girls, had fair attendance.

Academy (Frank E. Henderson, manager).—"This week 12-14, Leah Lessi, in "East Lynne," which will close the regular season.

Bijou (John W. Holmes, manager).—"The Electrician," with a strong cast, is the current offering. "A Daughter of the South" is due 19.

Bon Ton (T. W. Dinkins, manager).—"The Parisian Widows" this week.

NOTES.—"The Forepaugh-Sells Bros. Circus" is billed to appear in this city 24. The attaches at the Academy have their testimonial 19. Variety will be the feature.

Hoboken.—At the Lyric (H. P. Soulier, manager) "Lost in the Desert," May 17, marks the closing of the regular season.

Leon Victor, Harry Fields, Carolyn Mackey, Grace Wolvin, Sadie Fields, Wm. H. Stevens, Henry MacFadden, Frances Lynn and William Strong are some of those engaged for the cast of "The Road to Ruin," which goes on tour again next season.

Under the Cents.

NOTES FROM RINGLING BROS.' WORLD'S GREATEST SHOWS.—The Puff Club, which was organized with this show last season, and was a great success, held its first open air meeting Thursday, May 1, and elected the following officers: Doc Kealey, president; Geo. Hartzell, vice president; Mons. Natali, secretary and treasurer. After the election there was a motion passed to open the charter and take in a few new members. Owing to the big success of the club last year there was a big rush for membership, and thirty-four new members were put through and are now full fledged Puffs, making at this writing forty-six Puffs in good standing. There were only twelve of the original members present at the first meeting: Doc Kealey, Karl Milro, John Roomey, Tom Gennaro, Geo. Hartzell, Geo. Motz, Chas. Amondo, Geo. Holloway, Mons. Natali, Wm. Howard, John Slater, Albert Crandell. We will be joined in St. Louis by Brothers Phil, King and John Agee. Following is a list of the new members: John O'Brien, Gus Milton, Julian, E. Bell, Abe Holloway, Lew Graham, Chas. Lyon, Sted. Davenport, Homer Hobron, Robt. Nelson Sr., Arthur Nelson, Chas. Carroll, Reno McCree, R. G. Austin, Garry Vanderbilt, Tom R. Wood, Dan W. Kelly, Gus Dunbar, Archie Dunbar, Al. Mico, Steve Miles, Felix De Bolian, Tom Roberts, Frank Milton, Gus St. Leon, Carr St. Leon, James Rutherford, Camille Fortuns, Pierre Fortuna, Albert Slaman, Ray Tompson, Bert Panhard, Chas. Baynard, John Mercer, John Berger.

ROSTER OF L. R. SHOWS.—Executive staff: Ralph Pinkham, contracting agent, four assistants: A. Frank Monroe, treasurer and ticket agent; Stephen O. Pinkham, advertising agent and press. Performers: Tony White, equestrian director; Madame White's high school, trick donkeys and high stunts; James Hart, somersault ladder act; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newell, aerialist and trick house; Jeannette Bros., two brother act and double trapeze; Prof. J. A. Park's school of educated canines; "Patterner" Bros., horizontal bar act, carrying perch act; Mueller Sisters, flying rig experts and concert; Everett Kempton and Arthur Fox, singing and knockabout clowns; band of ten pieces, under the leadership of Tony Jeannette; W. F. Parker, superintending act of canvas; Chas. Hamby, boss hostler; Johnnie Hughes, in charge of stock; Chas. Bligh, steward; Lee Bros., sole owners and managers. We open the season May 8, and travel by rail.

JOHNNY NALON, juggling violinist, who has played in all the leading vaudeville houses, is with the Walter H. Jackson, doing his act, and is a big success with the show. While playing at Canton, O., on May 3, the company went over in a body to see the late President McKinley's grave at Canton Cemetery.

R. F. SCOBELL and wife (Bernice Bernard) have signed with Walter L. Main's Big Fashion Plate Shows for the season.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, Eng., April 30.

There was nothing particular to report during the past week, but the next seven days promise to be more prolific. Charles Frohman and Charles Hawtree are both to the fore in this morning's papers, the former having been interviewed in Paris "while clad only in lovely pink silk undershirt and drawers," as he did not wish to keep the interviewer waiting, and admitted him to his boudoir while he dressed for a dinner engagement. Hawtree is to produce "The President," at the Prince of Wales' tonight, and the exasperating discovery was made this morning that the theatre had been "burgled" and several of the elaborate Mexican costumes taken, together with some musical instruments. The losses will be made good in ample time, however. Hawtree, who is a bit of a "sophisticate," is now missing by a friend this afternoon, and replied "all the stalls have been taken, not one left."

Olga Netherole may supply something of a mild sensation, or perhaps a real one, when she springs Clyde Fitch's "Sapho" on London at the Adelphi. May 1, the official censor of plays has fully licensed it, but has asked for seats for the first performance, and will "be there to see."

Mr. Wyndham's latest production, "The End of a Story," a four act play, by J. Dudley Morgan, is now running smoothly, to fair business, but it is not apt to prove anything out of the common from a business point of view. Mr. Dudley, however, may be said to have evolved a decidedly new story in the way of modern society plays, which deal with the fracture of marriage vows, and for a new dramatist his prospects are bright. It is said, in fact, that he has already sold two or three more plays on the strength of his present showing at Wyndham's.

When the action begins a fine old diplomat, Sir Edward Villiamy, is found at his country place, and then he is visited by an old friend, the Earl of Farlow. The latter desires the advice and the assistance of Sir Edward, for the earl's son, the Hon. Peter O'Hagan, has fallen in love with a charming girl, who is making her living as a novelist and who lives at Shakespeare's birthplace, Stratford-on-Avon, where she lives in a little cottage and has a French maid. The earl desires his son to marry his cousin, Lady Barbara O'Hagan, who is, by the way, secretly deeply in love with Sir Edward, and while Sir Edward returns her love, he does not dare let her know it, for there are certain reasons why it is quite impossible for him to marry. The earl asks Sir Edward to go to Stratford-on-Avon and find out if the lady novelist, Miss Eleanor Murray, is worthy of being the Hon. Peter's wife, and Sir Edward undertakes the commission. It is a fine act, that which shows his visit, and he is charmed by the wit and tact and evident good breeding of the girl. She has at last to acknowledge, however, that she has never known who her father was, and Sir Edward, finding out for himself by finding a portrait in the drawing room, the portrait the girl says of her mother, and he then knows that she is his own daughter, and by his wife, who deserted him soon after the little girl's birth, running away to Paris with a lover, and taking the child with her. The girl, the erring wife was deserted, and at once plunged into a life of gilded shame, but she had raised the child in ignorance of her own career, and it was not until the utterly hardened woman attempted to draw the grown up girl into the life of the upper demimonde that the latter's eyes were opened. She had at once left France, and had since made her living in England with her pen.

We next find Sir Edward in Paris, where he has a very strong scene with his wife, known in the gay circles of the French capital as Madame August, and whom he has never divorced because, as he says, he did not wish her to be able to ruin another husband's life. She acknowledges that Eleanor is their child and that she is perfectly pure and stainless, and on the departure of her husband commits suicide in an outburst of remorse, as the nature of the come of her disappearance from the scene the young lovers are wedded at the expiration of a year, and Sir Edward proposes and is accepted by Lady Barbara.

Mr. Wyndham has a very well fitted part in Sir Edward; Alfred Bishop is the Earl, A. E. Matthews is the Hon. Peter, the pretty novelist, Mrs. Bernard Beere, Madame Sumont (a fine performance), and Mary Moore, Lady Barbara, while the other characters are portrayed by Reginald Walter, Eugene Mayeur, Herbert, Dansey, Edgar A. Marvin, H. Duberly, J. E. Watson, Adin Messier, E. W. Warwick, May Martyn and Joan Burnett.

Miss Meador is the wife of J. C. Buckstone, and has had considerable experience on the American stage, being prominent for some time in Richard Mansfield's companies. "The Betting Book" is a melodrama, which I fancy is destined to win a very large measure of success in England, where the pursuit of fickle fortune by the very risky route of "the odds" is a craze in all classes of society. It is the work of that clever melodramatic workman, Sutton Vane, who calls it an "emotional and sporting drama," and it is in four acts and running at the Pavilion Theatre, Mile-End, in "the East."

"The Betting Book" is a sermon against the British national habit of backing horses, just as many other plays have been written against the human weakness for battling with the Demon Rum. It is a capital play of its class, and is apt to preach with effect to an enormous number of people who can only find habitual betting to be a curse to themselves and those who depend upon them. It shows the downfall of a gambler, who has a happy home and all the respectable surroundings that a bank clerk should possess, and it shows it in first class melodramatic and sensational fashion. In the end the wicked tempters, who have even had the fallen bank clerk charged with murder, and apparently headed for the gallows, are tripped up and the all but wrecked is rescued and naturally turns his back forevermore on the temptations of "having a bit on."

The company is made up: Ashley Page (the bank clerk), Frank Harding, Edward Beecher, F. Boushad, Frank Lister, Willie Scott, C. Collins, A. Dempsey, Wm. Smith, Roland Riley, E. Godfrey, Clissie Brent, Mr. Green, Miss Estel Robinson, May Hallat, Marion Denny, Eva Dare, Joan Wellman and Miss Martyn.

"Frocks and Frills" did not, as was anticipated, run out the season at the Haymarket, and (owing to the success of the Macklin benefit matinee of "Caste"), Robinson's popular old comedy, now thirty-five years old, was revived 26. The company is an excellent one, especially in its feminine aspects, and Winifred Emery, as Esther; Marie Tempest, as Polly; and Genevieve Ward, as the Marquise, are very nearly perfect in their respective parts. The others in the cast are: Cyril Maude, as Eccles; Brandon Thomas, as Captain Hawtree; Alan Ayresworth, as George D'Alroy; and George Giddens, as Sam Giddings. The piece is mounted and costumed with all the taste and care that marks the Haymarket productions.

Mrs. Bandmann Palmer last week acted the part of Hamlet for the 350th time. Robert Lorraine was the Henry V in a special matinee performance of Shakespeare's play of that name given at the Theatre Metropole, Chamberwell, 23, and this rendering of the part is reported as capital. It was a performance given by the Elizabethan Society, and they followed out their usual plan of having as little scenery as possible, and that little very plain.

One of the exhibits at the recent automobile show here was a theatrical touring steam omnibus, which carries twelve passengers and draws a truck that will carry three sets of scenery. H. T. Brickwell is interested in the patents.

Sarah Bernhardt's season at the Garrick is to commence June 9. She will give "Francesca da Rimini" and "La Samaritaine." Mme. Rejane, at the Imperial, will confine herself to "Zaza."

Datas has scored so well at the Palace with his remarkable memory for dates that his engagement has been extended until Christmas.

Mabel Hoop, Almee De Burgh, Armine Grace, Ethel B. Carlton, Norman Mcowan, Dorothy A. Barrington, May Lindsay Oliver, Margaret Carter, Aniol Lee, Nesta De Becker, Edith Fitzgerald and W. Burgess Barrett have been elected members of the Actors' Association. At the last meeting of the council it was resolved "That the secretary be empowered to make guests of members of the Actors' Society of America (upon the introduction of their secretary), and to grant them all the privileges of honorary membership during their stay in the United Kingdom." Agnes Ardeck was the first American to take advantage of this hospitable rule.

The Referee has a new joke over which it chuckles audibly. It calls Shakespeare Bakespear as a method of mingling his name with Bacon's.

Eugene Stratton, the American singer of negro songs, who is so great a favorite here, is reported to have had a falling out with the management of the Oxford and Tivoli halls, and will hereafter not appear at those temples of variety.

It is rumored that Richard Mansfield may appear for a short season in London this summer, if a suitable theatre can be secured for the period of his visit, which is, however, far more likely to be devoted to play and not to work.

"Alice and Me" reached the one hundredth mark at the Lyric 25, and "Blue Bell in Fairyland" the two hundredth mark at the Vaudeville 29. The one hundredth performance of "Pilkerton's Peering" occurs at the Garrick this evening.

Gerholm Tree's part in the play by Netta Syrett which was chosen by the Playgoers' Club, and is to be produced at a special matinee by Geo. Alexander, will not involve much study. The character is that of a German count, and he has but a single line to speak.

Marion Crawford's version of "Francesca da Rimini," which appears to be a success at Sarah Bernhardt's Theatre, in Paris, with Sarah as its heroine, will be seen in London when she comes to the Garrick, in June.

Laurence Rogers is dramatizing Alice Maude Meadows's story called "An Inheritance of Hate."

The wrestling fever that is now in evidence here has led Will Evans to announce in large caps in the professional papers that he is "the first man that ever wrestled with himself, and is open to wrestle himself for any amount."

G. Brydon Phillips has already made good headway in his arrangements for producing his pantomime this year at the Shakespeare Theatre, Clapham, and at York, Cheltenham and Nottingham.

Greenwood's music hall, at Greenwich, for a long time known as the Parthenon, has for some time been the two-houses-a-night plan, and the old single show has been restored to its bills.

Little Tich is back from one of his very successful continental tours, and is in the programmes of Collins and the Londoners. There is, by the way, a rumor that these two halls and the Empress, at Brixton, are to be amalgamated for business purposes.

The twelfth annual dinner of the Music Hall Benevolent Fund was held at the Trocadero last week, and there was a moderate attendance. Geo. Adney Payne, the president for the year, being in the chair. £500 and something over was subscribed to the fund, and as Mr. Payne collected an equal amount at Christmas, the year has been a good one. It was stated that nearly twelve hundred applications for assistance had been looked into during the year, and a strong plea was made by several speakers for increased support to the fund. Those who subscribed over ten guineas were: Geo. Adney Payne, James Buchanan (the whiskey man) and H. E. Moss, each twenty-five guineas; Vest, Tilley and George Robey each twenty guineas.

Vernon Dowsett gave a number of the staff of the Tivoli handsome gifts before he left the management of that well known hall. The shocking discovery has been made public here by a number of scientific gentlemen writing to the papers that as a matter of strict fact the bee regards the "honey-suckle with great distaste, and will in nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of one thousand 'have none of it.'"

Sir Alexander Mackenzie is to conduct the Alhambra orchestra for a week beginning May 12, during the main feature of the programme, which will be his "Coronation March." The Alhambra's coronation ballet is to be called "Britannia's Realm," and it will be in five scenes.

The great success of the Barrow & Bailey Greater Show at Earl's Court has caused an increase in the value of its shares on the London Stock Exchange, and they are now quoted as 15 shillings, their original cost being 25 shillings, including the five shillings premium. The big show's receipts in Paris were in excess of £50,000, and the average receipts were $3,025 per performance.

The verdict of £250 which Kitty Loftus secured when she sued Arthur Roberts (as I reported in detail at the time) has been reversed on appeal, and the money, which had only been paid into court, pending the appeal, returned to Roberts. The appeal judges found that she had no contract to appear in the West End, but merely a "contract to negotiate for a contract." The newspapers have made a great deal of the case throughout.

It is a curious fact that the Shakespeare Restaurant, at Stratford-on-Avon, is kept by a man named Bacon. Ellen Terry, by the way, has been elected a life governor of the Shakespeare Memorial Association, in recognition of her having offered to play the part of Queen Katherine in Henry VIII at the recent annual festival. Her success was so marked that a couple of extra performances of that play were given.

There was a very small proportion of truth in the widely published yarn that the Lord Chamberlain had commanded that all the London theatres be closed on the night of Coronation Day and the day following, in order that the public might have nothing to distract them from enjoying the illuminations which will be in evidence on that evening. It was also said that the king proposed to make up the losses of the theatres which might result to the actors and other employees, who under the theatre rules could earn nothing if the houses were closed. As a matter of fact the Lord Chamberlain sent a circular, marked "private," to most of the West End managers, asking their united opinion on the subject of closing the theatres, and requesting that they discuss the matter and report their decision. Almost all of them are in favor of the closing, and several had intended doing so, the experience of the diamond jubilee, in 1897, showing that on the great illumination night in that year the theatres were practically deserted.

In the case of the Garrick, Sarah Bernhardt will be there at the time in question, and the decision as to close or not will rest with Charles Frohman and Maurice Grau, who are prohibiting the house from Arthur Boucher.

George Edwards, of the Gaiety and sundry other shows, notably Daly's Theatre, is seriously contemplating raising the price of stalls at those two houses to 12s. 6d. in stead of the regulation half guinea (10s. 6d.). He thinks, that as he does things so well, that he should "do" the public a little better also, seems to be the gist of his argument as quoted in the papers.

Reddick Anderson, who is to appear at the Pavilion in a coronation production by Richard Morton and Denham Harrison early in June, is to be supported by Marriott Edgar, Frank Gray, L. Jeppson, Herbert Callan, Roland Wright, Herbert Skerton, Pauline Courtney and Master Thomas James. The title of the production is "The Seven Edwards."

Charles Mildred, the whistler, who won the swimming championship of the profession at the Lambeth Baths at a Music Hall carnival given there three years since in aid of the Music Hall Home Fund, will display supremacy with J. Dernbach, of J. Day Brothers, the stakes being £25 a side.

Kitty Loftus, owing to indisposition from overwork, will end her present tour of the new musical comedy, "Naughty Nancy," at the Grand Theatre, Margate, this week.

"Lord" George Sanger, the well known circus proprietor, who is a native of Newbury, has offered to present to the town a statue of her late Majesty, Queen Victoria, of original design, to be erected on a pedestal, with a lion at each corner of the base.

A lion tamer named Douglas was attacked by a lioness in a menagerie performance at Finsbury last week. The animal mangled the tamer's hand, and had a paw lifted to his neck when Douglas forced his stick into its mouth and hurriedly escaped from the cage. The lioness had previously attacked him. Douglas had to be surgically treated.

The Daily Telegraph says: "Some little time ago the question was raised in this column as to the manner in which managers might consider it advisable to celebrate the centenary of the death of Shakespeare. A decidedly unexpected kind has just been vouchsafed in the shape of a suggestion forwarded from a high authoritative source to several leading West End managers, to the effect that they might deem it well to close their theatres altogether on the evenings of June 24 and 25. The reasons for such a step are, it must be confessed, not altogether obvious. The measure would, in the first place, entail either the entire loss of two nights' salaries to the personnel of these theatres, or—a still more probable event—the burdening of their managers with payment of such salaries. It is argued that everyone who goes to the streets viewing the illuminations on the two nights in question. But that, after all, is a matter best left to the consideration of the managers, and in the case of a wet evening there will assuredly be many people eager to seek the shelter of the theatre. And if the theatres are to be closed why not the music halls? What is right for the one can manifestly hardly be wrong for the other."

Mr. Tree has signed a contract with Stephen Phillips for a new play, which, however, necessarily cannot be produced for some considerable time. Meanwhile "Ulysses" is beating the box office records very nearly every night, and will undoubtedly run prosperously to the end of the season, which in London means mid-July.

The rule of "The New Clown" at the Comedy an important syndicate, chiefly composed of those who hold high positions in a department of the musical world, will take possession and present comic opera. Already pieces by Audran and Prociada Eucallos are on foot for other works, and James Welch thinks of taking "The New Clown" on tour.

Victor Stevens and Alice Brooks are the latest recruits to the halls. They will appear in a fast, funny, comedy sketch, and are well booked considering the time they have started with their new departure.

Mrs. Cragie and Murray Carson state that there are no grounds for the report that the play they have written together for the Haymarket in the Autumn.

They have finished the play, a three act comedy, which may be seen before the season terminates, but certainly not at the Haymarket. For the title of their piece they have selected "The Bishop's Move," and some idea of their theme may be guessed from the fact that they have chosen for their motto, "The Bishop moves diagonally, but the Queen moves all over the board."

Jerome K. Jerome recently arrived in London from Brussels, where he has now taken up his residence, bringing with him a new comedy, which Charles Frohman has at once secured for America. This is the first piece Mr. Jerome has written since "Miss Hobbs," and, like that, it is a light comedy, with occasional lapses into a vein of undoubted farce.

George Alexander is busy with rehearsals of Netta Syrett's play, "The Finding of Nancy," the production of which is now fixed for the afternoon of Thursday, May 8. Mr. Alexander has already arranged his plans for some time to come. Stephen Phillips, powerful drama, "Paolo and Francesca," which was registered its fifteenth performance last week, may be relied on to satisfy all requirements until the end of the season. That concluded, there will be a few weeks' vacation, and on Aug. 30 the St. James' will open with Justin King, rehearsing his romantic play, "If I Were King," rehearsals of which were started in June. After "If I Were King," Mr. Alexander will produce either Clyde Fitch's "Major Andre," or a play he has recently bought from Robert Hichens, which is called "The Schemers."

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston.—This week is a sort of resting time between seasons. Three houses are dark, two temporarily, only to open again for summer attractions. "The Prince of Pilsen" is in rehearsal at the Tremont, and "The Defender" at the Columbia. The Park has closed for the season. Dan Daly, in "The New Yorkers," at the Museum, and the Bostonians, in "Robin Hood," at the Boston, are the only new comers of note this week, and, should it awaken some interest among our wearied playgoers. Without novelty, and with a decided rise in the mercury, last week opened with fair business, which continued until the latter part, when cooler weather brought the average up to a goodly size for most of the houses.

Boston.—Mrs. (Field, Rich, Harris & Chas. Frohman, managers).—Dan Daly begins May 12 an engagement at this house appearing for the first time in this city in "The New Yorkers." "Are You a Mason?" closed 10 a four weeks' stay. While houses were not of capacity size during the engagement, the business was good, and was good, and satisfactory to all concerned.

BOSTON THEATRE (Lawrence McCarty, manager).—The Bostonians are here for two weeks, and possibly longer if the business is of sufficient size to warrant the extension. "Robin Hood" is the offering, and the following are the newcomers who have been heard in the opera before in this city: Grace Van Studdiford, Adele Raliter, Belle Harper, Frank Rushworth, Allan Hinckley and MacDonald Dorrington. Popular prices are in vogue for the engagement, and the advance sale has been very large. "Uncle Terry" closed last Saturday, after two weeks of light business. James R. Waite was good in the title role, but the supporting company was hardly fair. The play in its present state is better adapted to smaller cities and towns.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE (Isaac B. Rich, manager).—Anna Held, in "The Little Duchess," is now in the third week of her engagement. Audiences continue to be of large proportions, which will undoubtedly be the rule until the end of the stay. The catchy music, beautiful gowns and the pretty stage pictures are the talk of the town. May 24 is announced as the end of the engagement.

COLONIAL THEATRE (Rich, Harris & Chas. Frohman, managers).—"The Strollers" begins 12 the third week of its stay. The success of this musical comedy, which came to us practically an unknown quantity, continues, and the patronage has been so good that the management has extended the engagement until 24. Of the laugh provokers William Macart has been the star card, and is closely followed by John Henshaw and D. L. Don. The principals are: Dorothy Morton, John W. Ransome, Arthur Donaldson, Louise Montrose, Ruth Peabees, Mabel Pierson, Maurice Darcy and Robert O'Connor. George F. Marion is staging the production. The two weeks' engagement which "The Girl from Paris," for the production of the new yachting opera, "The Defender," by Gilbert Clayton, W. H. Sloan, Edgar Davenport and Gordon Tompkins. Frank Smithson is the stage manager, and Frank Dodge is responsible for the scenery.

PARK THEATRE.—This house closed for the season 10. In fact, it probably permanently ended its long career as a first class theatre, for during the next five years it will be under the management of Corse Payton, who will run it on a 10, 20 and 30 cents scale of prices. Mr. Payton will take possession of the house Aug. 15. The engagement of Nell Burgess, in "The County Fair," did not meet with the success the management expected.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Geo. W. Magee, manager).—"Two Little Vagrants," with Neva Harrison in leading role, is the attraction for this week, which is the final one of the season at this house. Happy Hoolligan," the distinction of doing the largest business of the local houses last week, capacity crowds attending every performance. All voted it the funniest and most enjoyable farce of its kind seen here this season.

KEITH'S THEATRE (B. F. Keith, manager).—This week's bill is featured by Abbas Ben Omar and Lalla Torquella, who appear for the first time in vaudeville in this country. In "A Scene in the Orient at Evening," a grand opera in English by the James W. Morrison English Grand Opera Co., which is open its season at the Grand Opera House on June 2, have begun, under the direction of C. de Macchi. The first opera will be "Carmen," with Rose Cecilia Shay in the title role. For the second week, "Mignon" will be the opera, and for the third, "Il Trovatore" and "Lucia" will follow in order.

concert of John Lund's Orchestra occurred 11, to big attendance. Emillo de Gogorza was the soloist. Sousa's Band 14, the soloists being Lucille Jocelyn, Marguerite de Frithach and Arthur Bremer.

OUR LONDON BUREAU.

During the past few years the business of THE CLIPPER in Europe has grown to such proportions that it can only be handled by the home office with difficulty. In order to meet the demands thus made upon us and to further extend the usefulness of our paper to our professional friends away from home, we have found it necessary to establish a bureau in England. Throughout Great Britain and continental Europe there are today many hundreds of native American performers, who doubtless miss the many conveniences offered by our New York office. They are playing abroad, and it is impossible for them to come to us, and we, therefore, feel the necessity of going nearer to them.

We intend this bureau to be a branch of the home office, a place where performers may have their letters addressed and where advertisements intended for THE CLIPPER may be placed. A file of THE CLIPPER will always be accessible to those who wish to consult it, and we will endeavor to make it a bureau where information pertaining to all branches of the amusement profession can be obtained.

We do not mean that the bureau is for the exclusive use of the American performer. It is intended for the use of all members of the profession, and many foreign performers contemplating a visit to the United States may be able to get information through our bureau which would prove of great value to them, and which might be unobtainable through any other source.

Thus it will be seen we wish to make THE CLIPPER more than ever internationally useful.

The Bureau is located at Granville House, Arundel Street, Strand, London, W. C.

CARDS.

A. L., St. Louis.—In what, if any player deals out of turn, either of his opponents may stop the deal before the trump is turned and the deal will pass to the player entitled to it. If, however, the trump is turned before any player stops the dealer, the deal holds good. You state the objection was made and the trump turned simultaneously. Obviously, then, the objection was not made before the trump was turned, and the deal holds good.

E. M. A., Altoona.—See answer to C. H. C.

T. E. A. Co., Burlington.—The hand would count twenty-one points.

N. A. B., Lynn.—The points count in the regular order, and B wins with his low and jack.

C. H. C., Spencer.—The percentage is slightly in favor of the flush. To be exact, the mathematical expectation of a flush when drawing to four cards of a suit is 9 flushes in 47 hands thus drawn. In a two ended straight the estimate is 8 straights in 47 hands thus drawn, and in an interloper or one end straight, 4 in 47 hands.

O. C.—1. It was organized during the Fall or Winter of 1869. Ed. Pinkham, a left handed pitcher, formerly of the Eckfords, of Brooklyn, E. D., and Orientals, of Greenpoint, L. I., was the club's regular pitcher during the season of 1870.

H. D., Brooklyn.—1. Yes. It would require too much space to give the names of all of them. 2. Both Ferguson and Chapman, while with the Athletics, of Brooklyn, have at one time or another played in every position on the ball field.

J. B. H., Buffalo.—The Rochester team won the championship of the Eastern League last season.

RING.

C. J. McC. Reinbeck.—The stated weights of the principals at the time of their fight at Carson City, Nev., were as follows: Bob Fitzsimmons, 160lb; Jim Corbett, 155lb.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. S., Chicago.—Where ever the "square and above board," the chances are equal, the non-guesser not having the slightest advantage.

Z. A., New York.—Grover Cleveland was elected Governor of New York State in 1882, and resigned the office in 1884, when he was first elected President of the United States.

WASHINGTON.

Seattle.—At the Grand Opera House (John Cort, manager) E. S. Willard opens a four nights' engagement May 7. Williams & Walker presented their "Sons of Ham" to the delight of immense crowds. On the way: Lewis Morrison 18, 19, Nat C. Goodwin 23, 24, Frawley Co. 25, indefinite.

SEATTLE THEATRE (J. P. Howe, manager).—Frank Cooley and Gladys Kingsbury began a week's engagement May 4, in "Fountain Valley" to a good sized house. "Lutifer" will be the offering the last half of the week.

THIRD AVENUE THEATRE (Russell & Drew, managers).—The Jessie Shirley Co. began a fortnight's engagement 4, when "Under Two Flags" was presented, to an audience completely filled the house. John Griffith, in "Faust," did good business week of April 27.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE (John W. Considine, manager).—Big business continues. Offering week of 5: Zephyrene, Leonette Center, Lillian Starr, Jas. W. Dalton, Birde Wren, Geo. M. Kidd, Wally Watts and John C. Butler, Amelia, Juvenita Coard, Barton and Jones, Minnie Russell, Barrington, Chester and Fred Ritchie.

RIJOU THEATRE (Walter Zanfrella, manager).—New faces 5: Lorraine and Howell, Isadorine Kelly and Forrest, Defayne Sisters, and Derene Aphel.

MASCOT, BILLYBREEKE and SAVOY retain last week's faces.

CIRCUSES.—The Norris & Rowe Shows came 1-4, to immense business, and gave great satisfaction. . . . The Gentry Bros. Animal Shows will be here 7-10.

TACOMA.—Tacoma Theatre (Calvin Hellig, manager).—Williams and Walker, in "Sons of Ham," packed the house May 3. E. S. Willard, in "The Cardinal," and "The Professor's Love Story," 5, 6, to large attendance, at increased prices. Lewis Morrison, in "Faust," 12, coming; Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott, in "When We Were Twenty-one."

LYCEUM THEATRE (D. Worley, manager).—The Jessie Shirley Company, week of April 28, did splendid business. The Portland and Tacoma baseball teams attended in a body at the performance of "Dad's Girl." "The Denver Express" packed the house 4, 5.

THE OWL (Geo. Higgs, manager).—The stock company, in "Thompson's Dead," drew good houses week of April 25-May 3. New vaudeville people for week of 5: La Jess, flying trapeze; Camille, dancer; Tom and May Gerard, sketches; Grace Howard, songs; Allen and Price, sketches; A. Owen Wynne, character actor.

NOTES.—Calvin Hellig passed through town 6, on his way to New York. . . . Manager Worley, of the Lyceum, visited Seattle 3. . . . Gentry Bros. Dog and Pony Show is billed for 5.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Slaterville.—Auditorium Theatre (A. R. Doyle, manager).—Willie Akerstrom Comedy Co. on May 5-7, in "My Aerial Friend," "The Doctor's Warm Reception" and "A Bachelor Housekeeper," to big business. House closed for the season.

NOTE.—A. R. Doyle will manage the house next season, and will have new curtain and new settings put in this summer.

BOYD, DAVIDSON and BOYD were very successful recently with the Montank Stock Company at the Palm Garden, Brooklyn, in their new sketch, entitled "Gussie's Troubles." They will play the parks this summer, and the best vaudeville houses next season.

MISSOURI.

St. Louis.—This is the dull season of the year in St. Louis in things theatrical. The down town houses are closing, and the Summer theatres are not yet open.

QUINCY.—"Florodora," at Manager Short's house, did a fairly good business. Edna Wallace Hopper, Jeanette Lowrie and James Kiernan received the laurels last week.

As the Century is closed, the orchestras of both houses were combined for this production, under the direction of Arthur Weld, of "Florodora." This was the last offering this season at the Olympic.

HAVLIN'S.—Manager Garen's house is still open. The other two popular prices houses, the Grand and Imperial, are closed. At Havlin's "Dangerous Woman" was the offering, and proved fairly interesting. This week, Katie Emmett, in "The Waifs of New York."

COLUMBIA.—Managers Middleton & Tate announce that the house will close May 25. Last week it did a very good business. The Russell Bros., in Geo. Cohan's sketch, "A Home in New York," was featured. Halter and Fuller, Williams and Turner, and Simon and Gardner were the other leading turns.

ODEON.—Creator's Italian Band began its return engagement May 1.

NOTES.—The Delmar Garden opening is postponed to May 18, from 11, as previously announced. The theatre opens there June 1. . . . Over $75,000 has been spent in improvements this Spring at Delmar Gardens.

A scenic railway a mile long and an aquarium are new features. . . . The benefit at Havlin's, 25, for W. J. Conahan, press representative, and John Fleming, treasurer, promises well.

N. A. B., Lynn.—At Handall's Park Ringling's Circus did a big business. Among the specialties most familiar to CLIPPER readers are: Capt. Webb's performing seals, the Holloway Trio, Nelson Family, St. Leon Family, Petit Family, Roberts Family, Dunbar Trio, Austin Sisters, Fort Fourwards, Three Debbolins and the Fortune Bros.

The big parade, 5, packed the streets here, and the vicinity of the park has been packed ever since.

KANSAS CITY.—At the Grand Opera House (Hudson & Judah, managers) "The Dairy Farm" came last week, to good business. This week, "Jack and the Beanstalk," and next week, "The Christian," which closes the regular season at the house. Then the Wilbur-Kerwin Opera Co. starts in on a short Summer season.

ORPHEUM (M. Lehman, manager).—Last week's bill drew good houses. It was the last regular bill of the season at this house.

On Sunday, May 11, the big amateur carnival goes on, and the theatre will be rung down and the stage cleared until next season.

AUDITORIUM (Woodward & Burgess, managers).—The Woodward Stock Co. gave a fine revival of "Quo Vadis" last week, to packed houses. It will continue the bill until 16, when Richard Mansfield presents "Beaucaire." On Saturday night, 17, he will give "Beau Brummel." The week following "Pinocchio" will be produced by juvenile amateurs, under the direction of Georgia Brown. This will close the season at the house.

E. S. Bringham (manager).—Last week Katie Emmett, in her familiar play, "The Waifs of New York," had good business. This week, "Legally Dead." Next week, "The Inside Track."

CLIPPERINGS.—Jas. H. Smith, proprietor of the Great Eastern Show, died here Sunday, May 11, of blood poisoning. . . . The annual May Festival took place here, at Convention Hall, 7, 8, to big attendance. The neighboring towns all contested. Joplin, Mo., won the first prize. . . . Manager Lehman, of the Orpheum, accompanied by his wife and family, leave here for Los Angeles about June 1, to spend the remainder of the Summer.

CANADA.

Toronto.—Princess Theatre (O. B. Shepard, manager).—May 5-8, dark; 9, 10, Carnival of Musical Romances. Theatre closed until 22, and will open with "Florodora."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (A. J. Small, manager).—10, Robert Mantell, in "Richelleu" and "Hamlet." Week of 12, "Mombars." Big business.

TORONTO OPERA HOUSE (A. J. Small, manager).—5-10, "A Ragged Hero" played to good business. The card for week of 12, "An American Gentleman."

J. J. (J. J. Small, manager).—5-10, big business, with Canfield and Carleton. Three Blossoms, Jos. Reichen's dogs, Tom Brown and Miss Navarro, Snyder and Buckley, Leath Russell, the Gagnoux and the kinetograph.

MASSEY MUSIC HALL (Stewart Houston, manager).—6, the Westminster Abbey Choir played to a large and fashionable audience. Coming: 10, Ellen M. Stone; 15, Florizel, the boy violinist.

STAR.—Closed until 19.

St. John.—At the Opera House (A. O. Skinner, manager) the Katherine Rober Co. closed a successful three weeks' engagement May 3, with a splendid performance of "Under Two Flags." On 2 the company gave a performance for the first time on any stage, "The Play," by Jack Courtney's "Wife." The piece was written by a Brooklyn society woman, and deals with New York society. The play is clever, and after some minor alterations should prove a success.

Katherine Rober, Edith Ives, Eleanor Waldo, James Gordon and Harry King drew a selection. M. J. Curtis' "Little Magnet" Co. opened 5, to big business. With the exception of Bessie Gilbert, Fox and Ward and Master Fisher the company was not up to standard, and business declined for the next two nights. Coming: "An American Girl" 8-10, Kings and Queens 12-14, W. S. Harkins 19-31.

NEWS.—The Rober Co. left 5 for Springfield, Mass., where they play a nine days' engagement. . . . W. E. Scammon is in town, describing "An American Girl." . . . The Jules Grau Opera Co. passed through here 7, on the way to Fredericton. Fred J. Stevens and Helen Granger, of the company, concluded their engagement and laid off here, leaving later to fill Summer engagements, the former with the Duquesne Garden Opera House, and the latter with the Manhattan Beach Opera Co., Denver, Col. . . . Ernest and Chas. H. Williams, of the Williams Orchestra, left 7 for Yarmouth, N. S., where they join Whitney's California Minstrels. The former was a member of this company last year.

OTTAWA.—The Russell Theatre (P. Gorman, manager).—"The Evil Eye" drew big business May 1-3. "The Royal Box" did only fair business 5, 6. Watkins Mills Concert Co. gave a delightful performance, before a fashionable audience, 7. Coming: Louis Mann and Clara Lipman 9, 10.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (J. J. Small, manager).—The King Dramatic Co. closed its engagement 3, with big business. The Aubrey Stock Co. opened a four-weeks' engagement 5, producing "Devil's Island" and "The Fire Patrol."

WINNIPEG.—At the Winnipeg Theatre (Chas. C. Lindsay, manager) Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Co. came May 2, 3, gave a big parade each day and drew large crowds to the performances. "Way Down East" was the attraction 4, 5, and was one of the best shows of the season. Large crowds attended both performances. The Ellis-Lennon Co. opens a short engagement 9.

HAMILTON.—At the Grand Opera House (A. L. London, manager) "Uncle Tom's Cabin" (A. L. Martin, production), May 3, had big business. "All on Account of Eliza," 7, had fair business. "The Royal Box" 10. Due: Watkins-Mills Concert party 12, "On the Suwanee River" 15, "Arizona" 17, Blanche Walsh, in "Madeline," 21.

Berlin.—Berlin Opera House (C. E. Moyer, manager).—On May 5 A. L. W. Martin's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" delighted a large audience. Booked: 10, Westminster Abbey Choir; 17, "The Royal Box" Co.

TEXAS.

Houston.—Sweeney & Coombs' Opera House (Ed. Bergman, business manager).—Dolly Thropp, in "A Doll's House," May 1, for Manager Ed. Bergman's benefit, crowded the house from pit to dome, and gave excellent satisfaction. The Payton Sisters closed the house 3, after five performances, to crowded houses, at popular prices. The company is fairly good. The Columbia Stock Co., booked for 5, canceled. With the cancellation of the Columbia Stock Co. the house closes, and will go through a stage of remodeling and repainting, so that everything will be completed at an early date, and there will be no unnecessary delay when the season reopens.

STANDARD THEATRE (Alvido & Lasserres, proprietors).—The crowds drawn to this city to witness the saengerfest, 5, week has also proved beneficial to this house, standing room being at a discount. The Booth Sisters, Ruth and Cora; Lizzie Mitchell, Roberts, Smilax and company, and the Florida Sisters have been the drawing crowds 5-10, winning much applause in their different specialties. The rest of the people still retained 5-10 and 10, Dobie Gregory, Geo. W. Milton, Mabel Dryden, Ethel Wilson, Jessie Woods, Cora Johnson, Dot Collins, Alvin Dashington, B. J. Paul, Maggie Carpenter, Annie Beasers and Zita Lovell.

ADDITIONAL.—The Twenty-fourth Biennial Saengerfest and State Singers' League opened 6, to a house crowded from pit to dome, and quartets and choruses were welcomed with bursts of rapturous enthusiasm. Carrie Bridwell, contralto, especially engaged for this event, at the close of each song was the recipient of continuous applause and gigantic bouquets of lovely flowers. The saengerfest closes 7, and from the present outlook seems to have been, from beginning to end, financially and artistically, a big success.

ST. MONY CARLO THEATRE opened May 5, with Dan Haven as proprietor; Jake Marti, manager, and Mike Dolan, stage manager, to an immense house. The people 5-10: Howard and Alton, Clara Winston, Harry Flaks, Bella Bennett, Mike Dolan, Grace Hartland, Clara and Joseph, Prof. Scott and the St. Mary's Operatic Vocalists. The opening of this place is simply an experiment as a vaudeville theatre. It was formerly a beer saloon and dance hall, and is built over the bayou facing Franklin Street. Should business prove encouraging the management has the assurance of good backing to build a first class resort, and to make it second to none as a vaudeville theatre in the South.

FT. WORTH.—At Greenwall's Opera House (Phil W. Greenwall, manager) the Olivea Stock Co., at popular prices, opened May 5, for week, to good business. With this engagement the season ends.

STRAVINSKY (Frank De Beque, manager).—Business week of 5 opened good, the bill being up to the usual standard. The people are: H. B. Burton, Rose Mendel, Maggie Morris, Maude Judge, Cleo Samayoa, Reta Constenello, Nat Blossom, Lettie Colton, Lillian Benson, and Tom Fry. The stock presents "Who John" as a curtain raiser.

HOLLAND'S THEATRE (Geo. B. Holland, manager).—The attendance at this house continues good. The people week of 5: Daily and Doyle, Daisy Roy, Smith and Rose, Dillard Sisters, Dunn and Williams, Chas. Gort, Mae and Rae, Allie Leath, Ida Carrio, Vontello and Cox, and Wm. Arnold. "The Longshoreman," by the stock, closes the show.

NOTE.—Barrett's Theatre closed its doors 3, owing to poor business. The building is being remodeled, and will be opened 12, under the management of A. H. Burling, and will be known as the Crown Theatre.

DALLAS.—At the Dallas Opera House (Geo. Amy, manager), week of May 5, the Olympia Opera Co. is drawing good business nightly. This week will terminate this company's engagement and will wind up a very successful season for this theatre.

CYCLE PARK SUMMER THEATRE (C. R. McAdams, manager).—Week of 5 the Boston Ideal Opera Co. opened for a week's engagement, presenting "Martha," to a well pleased audience.

CAMP STREET THEATRE (Joe Mills, manager).—Week of 5 business was good. The people: Nellie Everette, Lillian Ellsworth, Nel Cook, Elsie Young, Tom Kelly, Zilda, Grace Hess, Elsie Smith and Dan McCreedy.

THE ELKS' HORSE SHOW did good business. Prize animals from all parts of America were in attendance, many of which carried off first prizes and taught one local contingent new ideas in the matter of competition.

Galveston.—At the Grand Opera House (Maurice C. Michael, manager) a large and appreciative audience attended the benefit of Treasurer Charles T. Brien, May 2, Clara Thropp, in "A Doll's House," being the attraction.

OREGON.

Portland.—At the Marquam Grand (Calvin Hellig, manager) E. S. Willard did fair business April 29-May 3, with "The Cardinal." "The Professor's Love Story" and "David Garrick." The audiences increased nightly. Fanny Bloomfield Ziesler, pianist, was heard in concert by a fair sized audience 5, and was well received. Lewis Morrison will present "Faust," 9, 10. Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott come 16, 17.

THEATRE (John F. Cordray, manager).—John Griffith opened well, in "Faust," May 4. The Frank Cooley Co. did fair business, in repertoire, week of April 27. "The Old Kentucky Home" comes May 11, and Stanley and Lolita Lamb 18.

BAKER'S THEATRE (George L. Baker, manager).—The Ralph Stuart Co. did big business week of April 27, with "Hazel Kirke." "Cumberland '61" drew two crowded houses May 4. "In Mizoura" will be put on 11.

FREDERICKSBURG MUSIC HALL (Brown & Grant, managers).—Charles Barrington, Geo. Truitt, Cessal and Lewis, Little Egypt and the Willison Family.

FRITZ'S CONCERT HALL (Henry Martzlos, manager).—Vernon Sisters, Wanda and Duffy Children.

NOTES.—The Pan-American Shows drew two good audiences under their own canvas May 1-2. Norris & Rowe's Dog and Pony Show drew big audiences on Multnomah Field 28-30.

DELAWARE.

Wilmington.—At the Grand Opera House (Jesse K. Baylis, manager) Henrietta Crossman, in "Nance Oldfield" and "Madeline," gave one of the most artistic and delightful performances of the season May 3. J. H. Stoddard, in "The Bonnie Brier Bush," gave an appreciated performance, to an undeservedly small audience, 10. Booked: Dummett's Minstrels 15.

DOCKSTADER'S THEATRE (W. L. Dockstader, manager).—For week of 12, and to continue the good business of this house: Fitzgerald, Willie Hale and Frances, Katie Allen Fox, Coakley and Huested, May Evans, Baroness Marie von Sieber, H. L. Corbett, and the Mann Family. This house closes week of 19.

IOWA.

Cedar Rapids.—At Greene's Opera House (John B. Henderson, manager) the kinodrome moving picture show drew good houses May 1-3. Kathryn Kidder, with a good company, in "The Country Girl," pleased a big audience 5. Coming: Blanche Walsh 8, "The Volunteer Organist" 9, "The Chaperons" 10, Chase-Lister Co. 12-17.

Norras.—Frank C. Payne, business manager for "The Chaperons," was in town 3. . . . Will T. Lister arrived 6, in the interests of the Chase-Lister Co. . . . Aerle No. 149, Fraternal Order of Eagles, has arrangements about completed for a monster old fashioned Fourth of July celebration in Riverside Park.

Marshalltown.—At the Odeon Theatre (Busby Bros., managers) the kinodrome show opened May 5, to large business. The Warner Comedy Co., week April 28, did fair business. Coming: "A Volunteer Organist" 8, Sanford Dodge 10, "The Chaperons" 19.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee.—Vaudeville promises to have a run in this city again this Summer. S. A. Vesey, at his Exposition Music Hall, promises some good bookings. His season opens early in June.

DAVIDSON THEATRE.—Manager Sherman Brown has "The Storks" May 16, 17, a new musical comedy, to be put out by the Dearborn Theatre Co., of Chicago. E. S. Willard comes week of 26.

PABST THEATRE (Leon Wachner, manager).—The fourth and last week of the Castle Square Opera Co. will be devoted to "The Mikado," "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci." The attendance the past week was up to the opening week, and it is now a certainty that the returns will be far greater than last season, which was considered highly satisfactory.

ACADEMY (Edwin Thanhouser, manager).—The revival of "The Ironmaster" by the Thanhouser Co. the coming week is being looked forward to by the admirers of Mr. Thanhouser's clever players. "Virginia," the classic tragedy, met with favor last week. Albert Brown, Edith Evelyn and Edgar Bann were the favorites. "Sag Harbor" week of 19.

ALHAMBRA THEATRE.—Pete F. Dalley, at the head of a strong vaudeville bill, was a big winner last week. "Maloney's Wedding Day" comes week of 11 after which Manager O. F. Miller promises a treat in the form of several top liners, with Jessie Davis as the star.

BIJOU OPERA HOUSE (J. M. Handley, manager).—Coming attractions: "The Volunteer Organist" week of 11, and "East Lynne" week of 18. "At Cripple Creek" was the offering the past week, and was especially well received.

STAR THEATRE.—Manager Frank R. Trotman offers Miss New York Jr. for week commencing 11. The Cracker Jacks held the boards this week and made good to usual well filled houses. Harvey Parker, the wrestler, managed to throw all but two of the men during the week.

ZOO AND MUSEUM (Barney Hall, manager).—Business continues satisfactory. People week of 11: Curio hall—Esau, wildman; Leola, queen of opium den; Sailor Teddy, and Congress of Nations. Stage—The Thompson Sisters, Little Jane, the Montgomerys, and Billy Slater.

NOTES.—Grace Mae Lamkin and Albert Brown, two of the most popular members of the Thanhouser Stock Co., were married in this city Monday, 5. Frederick Paulding arrived during the past week, and is at his old quarters in the Aberdeen, where he will devote a good share of the Summer, working on a few new plays. Richard C. Kaun, of New York City, formerly of Milwaukee, has arrived to take charge of the press work for the Becker-Wall operative combination at the Davidson Theatre. S. A. Vesey, manager of the Exposition Music Hall, has arrived in this city, and is rapidly getting in shape for his formal opening, which takes place June 1. "The Storks," an operatic fantasy, will receive its initial presentation at the Davidson Theatre May 16.

VIRGINIA.

Norfolk.—Granby Theatre (Jake Wells, manager).—The attraction booked at this house for week of May 12 will be the Percy Haswell Comedy Co., presenting "She Loved Him So." L. J. Le Faucher, treasurer of this theatre, accompanied by his wife, sailed for Boston May 7, to be gone several days. John Elberg, treasurer of the Academy of Music, fills the vacancy.

BIJOU THEATRE (Abb. Smith, manager).—New people for week of May 12: Dora Adams, Robert Jackson, Morrell and Morena, Atkins Sisters, and Dick Cahill. Business good.

AUDITORIUM THEATRE (J. M. Barton, manager).—For week of May 12 the following people appear at this house: Morton and Russell, St. Leon and McCusick, Evelyn La Tell, Goldie De Weis, Inez La Porte, Hess and Hunt, Bob Murray and Chas. Rentz. Regular stock will present "What Happened to Green." Business good.

ATLANTIC GARDEN (M. Harnich, manager).—New people for week of May 12: Clayton and Deshon, the Great Yogi, Prof. Hewes, Devaughn Sisters, Elsie Russell, Jordan and White, Anderson and Delmore, and Mamie Burkhardt. Business good.

Richmond.—At the Academy of Music (Thos. G. Leath, manager) the Giffen Co. opened May 12, with "Blue Jeans," and the week's offering. They closed a most successful week 10, in "The Christian." As the week advanced the little nervousness evident in the initial performances were away, and the company closed strong. The attendance was large.

BIJOU (Jake Wells, manager).—There is a new departure inaugurated here this week. Fulgora's Stars will hold the boards the first three nights. In the company is seen the Calibri Midgents, Eckert and Berg, Baker and Lynn, the Three Rosebuds, Watson and Van Allen, and Zeda and Alden. The Percy Haswell Co. will fill out the week, playing "Because She Loved Him So." The same company held sway all last week in "The Little Minister," to overcrowded houses.

PUTNAM'S THEATRE (Fred W. Putnam, manager).—The following are billed here this week: Charlie Bankhart, Georgia Taylor, Annie Burk, Delvarno and Ivy. Business last week, very good.

PAWNEE BILL'S COMBINED SHOWS will be here for two performances 16.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis.—At English's Opera House (Ad. F. Miller, manager) May 17, appeared 9, in "The Widow Jones," to a large and enthusiastic audience. "The Climbers," matinee and night 10, pleased large audiences. Due: Viola Allen 13, Tim Murphy, in "Old Ince," 14.

PARK THEATRE (Dickson & Talbot, managers).—The Holden Comedy Co., in "Over the Sea" and "Camille," week of 5, did fair business. The same company will put on "The Denver Express" and "The Wages of Sin" week of 12.

Evansville.—The Grand Opera House (C. J. Scholz, manager) will close after the performance of "The Hunchback," with Viola Allen. The sale of seats bids fair to pack the house to S. R. O., regardless of the warm weather. C. J. Scholz reports his first year in the theatrical business very successful, and is much pleased with his new venture.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE (C. J. Scholz, manager) had fair houses from June 28 to May 4, and Lee, hypnotist, appeared for the last time on any stage. His retirement from the amusement world will be regretted by all. He is to be at the head of an institution of science in St. Louis, where he is to teach and heal. The Blumenstein Stock Co. will close this house May 11.

NOTES.—Henry Austin Adams delivered a lecture at the Grand 1, to S. R. O., for the benefit of the Knights of Columbus. The Merchants' Carnival will hold sway 26-31. Ringling Bros.' Circus gave two performances 2, to the largest crowds ever gathered together in Evansville. Buckskin Bill's Wild West Show is on for 10. Trecker's Park will open with vaudeville some time in June. Harvey E. Moore, a former correspondent of THE CLIPPER, will spend a few days in Evansville, after spending four years in Mexico and South America.

RING DOWN THE CURTAIN I CAN'T SING TONIGHT!

FIRST VERSE:

One evening into a theatre, I happened by chance to stray,
Twas crowded with beauty and fashion who came there to see the new play.
A singer stepped forth to amuse us, when suddenly there came a cry,
As a messenger gave him a letter, he read it and said with a sigh:

Refrain: Ring down the curtain I can't sing tonight,
My heart is breaking amid all this light,
My little one's dying, my pride and delight;
So ring down the curtain I can't sing tonight!

CONNECTICUT.

Bridgeport.—The Park City Theatre (Walter Rowland, manager).—"The Rogers Brothers in Washington" played to the capacity of the house May 5. Weber's Parisian Widows did a fair business 6, 7. "The Little Vagrants," 9, 10, played to medium business. Booked: J. H. Stoddard, in "Bonnie Brer Bush," 12; Kelsey and Shannon, in "Her Lord and Master," 13; Kyrie Bellew, in "A Gentleman of France," 15.

NOTES.—Joseph H. Wess, of New York, has secured privilege from the owners of Avon Park to open a Summer theatre and amusement hall there. He has secured John A. Judge, of this city, as press representative. He was formerly press representative for Edward Smith, and was identified with the early success of that manager in this city. Mr. Judge is also assistant manager of the new theatre. The Buffalo Bill Show is booked here for June 2. A large party of theatrical people and newspaper men journeyed to Hartford 10, to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the birth of H. H. Jennings, formerly of this city, but now a member of the firm of Jennings & Graves, proprietors of the new Hartford Opera House. Mr. Jennings banqueted about twenty-five invited guests from this city. Word reached this city this week to the effect that Florence Hamilton, leading lady with the Corse Fayton Comedy Co., had a narrow escape from being killed while the company was pulling into Newport a few days ago. The extensive press reports of the incident indicated there had been trouble between the railroad company and the entertainers. The train was stopped, and Miss Hamilton was one of the passengers narrowly escaping injury by the crashing of a huge rock through the car windows. The shock she sustained from the incident incapacitated her for work for several days. Her parents, who reside in this city, however, received a dispatch to the effect that the actress was not seriously injured.

THE WALLS, J. Turner and Valina, write: "We have lost five months and have spent over one thousand dollars arranging a twenty minute act, and we are glad to say we have completed what was long looked for—a novel historic act, different from anything heretofore done by two people. We are on our way to New York, and we are bringing all the children brand new presents."

Vaudeville and Minstrel.

THE JUGGLING MITHRAS announce that on May 10 they began a ten weeks' engagement on Shyne's circuit of parks, with Masonic Temple Roof Theatre, Chicago, to follow. They state: "Our company, 'The Great Mithras Show,' which opens Sept. 1, is well booked up in one and two night stands. We will carry about eight people, and bill like a circus. The people signed are: Stewart and Raymond, musical act; Lizzie Russell, illustrated songs; Charles Marsh, musical director, and M. C. Marshall, advance agent."

MUSICAL THOR has just closed on the Kohl-Castle circuit and the Duquesne Theatre, Pittsburgh. He has gone to his home in Los Angeles to spend two weeks, after which he will return and play at the Alhambra Theatre, Milwaukee, with Ed. Shyne's circuit of parks to follow.

RAE AND BROSCHE, who played Woolworth's Roof Garden, Lancaster, Pa., May 5, were a laughing success. They are at Hyde & Behman's, Brooklyn, week of May 12, making their fourth date there since October.

MABELLE DORR, who has been over the Southern circuit and made a big hit at Atlanta, Ga., has had to cancel all engagements after Baltimore, and return to California with her mother, who was taken seriously ill while in Baltimore.

BEN HUNN AND LEATHA LIVERPOOL are in their eleventh week at Pat Chappelle's Buckingham Theatre, Tampa, Fla.

ROSABRE, who played Duquesne Theatre, Pittsburgh, last week, is booked there for a return date in October.

KRESKO AND LYNCH, who, in a singing and dancing act, were recently the stars of the strelas, have dissolved partnership. Mr. Lynch will retire from the stage on account of the critical condition of his mother.

LILLIAN PALMER AND LOUISE DELANEY, of Frank B. Carr's Thoroughbred Co., closes week of May 12 at Cleveland, Ohio, and will join the La Rose Electric Fountain and Display Co., to do their dancing specialties, for the summer season.

ARTIE HALL is remarkably successful in her white face specialty.

W. H. J. SHAW has just issued a book on magic, illusions, spiritualistic effects, etc., which is entitled "New Ideas in Magic." A copy of same has been sent to this office by Mr. Shaw, and it proves to be a neatly arranged, well printed and substantially cloth bound work of almost 100 pages, clearly illustrated and containing a number of explanations of new tricks.

MAX A. ARNOLD, formerly manager of Versailles Park, McKeesport, Pa., and late advance agent of Murray & Mackey's Bon Ton Ideal, writes: "Versailles Park will not open this season. I was recently made a charter member of Youngstown Aerie, No. 213, Fraternal Order of Eagles. Next season I go in advance of McGill & Shipman's Keystone Dramatic Co. (Western)."

AL. LAWRENCE is playing Waterbury, Ct., this week, with New Haven to follow, on the Poli circuit. Mr. Lawrence presented his specialty at three different theatres in New York on Sunday, May 11, namely: The Dewey, Star and Proctor's Fifty-eighth Street.

HENDERSON AND ROSS were at Keith's, Boston, last week.

THE WEST END STREET CAR PARK, Washington, Ind., will open on May 17, playing vaudeville only. Morgan and Wells are managers.

MACK AND ARMOUR write: "On May 10 we closed an engagement of twenty weeks with Falkiner's Vaudeville and return to New York City for two weeks, where we will rest before opening our summer park work. Will produce our new act, 'Silver Service,' which has proven a big success, filling in eight weeks' engagement, and will then proceed to our home, Lady-Burke, on the St. Clair River, near Port Huron, Mich., for the balance of the summer. We expect to go into farce comedy next season."

TOM LEWIS AND SAM J. RYAN write: "Our success here in Detroit, Mich., at the 'Wonderland and Temple,' has been so great the past two weeks that we have been re-engaged for another week, making three weeks in the same house—a thing that has never happened before in the history of this theatre."

NELLIE BURGESS, female baritone, late of Thos. P. Kelley Minstrels, writes: "I am not the Nellie Burgess who was billed at the Nickelodeon, Boston, recently. I am at present resting, and will open my summer season at Austin & Stone's, June 9."

MADLINE BURDETTE is singing with big success at the Palace Theatre, Boston. Through error her name was not mentioned in old last week (her sixth week at the house).

BURTO LOWLANDER-WILSON'S Bijou Vaudeville Circus is one of the attractions booked for the Brockton fair, at Brockton, Mass.

CARMANELLI AND LUCILLE have closed a successful season with the 'Little Trilixie' Co., and have been re-engaged for next season to play comedy and character parts. They will spend the summer at their home in Canton, O.

WALTER H. NEXLEY, male soprano, has closed a most successful season of thirty-two weeks with Gus Sun's American Minstrels. He will play parks this summer.

EDDIE DELANEY AND MARIE ESTELLA are meeting with success in their travesty comedy, "The Mystery of the Yogi." They will close the season June 9, and rest at their home in Los Angeles, Cal., until July 5, when they start East to fill their summer engagements.

GEORGE L. GREGORY says: "I have formed a partnership with Archie Delmanning, late of the Delmanning Brothers, to put out a high class vaudeville and pantomime company for the heated term, to play all the popular summer resorts and parks. We will produce some refreshing novelties, with special scenic effects, elegant new costumes, properties and special printing. We contemplate making an extensive tour through the States and Canada. We will be the only legitimate pantomime company in America playing the parks, and we feel confident that our attraction will prove a strong one in the field."

THE ARTHUR LODGE OF EAGLES, AERIE 96, held its first benefit performance at the Burdette Opera House, Buffalo, N. Y., May 9, under the management of Eugene Jerge, the Pan-American tenor. The show was a big success, and the performers were all very well entertained after the show, as they were mostly all Eagles.

ROBERT CARLIN AND NAT BROWN, who are at Shea's Theatre, Toronto, Can., this week, are meeting with success.

CHARLES E. WALKER, formerly of Walker and Randolph, is in his tenth week with his own cineorama and vaudeville company, now touring New York State, and is winning general commendation.

THE GREAT RICHARDS is with the Utopian Burlesque Co. at Hopkins' Theatre, Chicago, this week, and is meeting with success. He joined the Utopians in April, at Jersey City, N. J.

HARVEY PARKER AND MADGE MATO, his wife (of the Mayo Sisters), at the close of their season with Manchester's Cracker Jacks, will go to Worcester, Mass., and locate there permanently. They will go with Mr. Manchester next season.

TOM J. FANNING AND JIM P. FAIRBANKS have joined hands again, and are rehearsing a new act.

LA PELL AND WHEELER are playing this week at Danville, Ill., for the R. P. Indoor street fair, and report great success with their singing and dancing act. Next week they will appear at Rochey's Theatre, Joliet, and week of June 16 they will be at the Chicago Opera House.

NEWELL AND NIBLO are at Pastor's this week. They have just finished the Castle, Shea, Moore and Keith circuits, and are booked for the opening week at the American Roof Garden, after which they will play the Southern circuit of parks.

CHARLES H. SHEPHERD, late of Sheffer and Blakely, and Mae Belle Rae have gone into partnership, and will be known hereafter as Sheffer and Rae.

W. B. WATSON writes: "Business this season has been phenomenal with both the American and Oriental Burlesques, the former breaking many house records and giving the best satisfaction of any company in this class of entertainment. The Oriental's business on one night stands was tremendous, as well as on many of the week stands. Both companies are booked solid for next season, and will be fitted out with all new scenery, costumes and many new novelties. 'Mickey Finn, That Bad Boy,' my new enterprise, featuring America's great Irish comedian, vocalists and dancers, Perry and Burns, is also booked solid and will be a revelation in farce comedy. The company will number twenty people, and will include many new and novel specialties, scenery and electrical effects. The paper is of the finest and includes more variety than any other attraction of its kind in existence. I have also in preparation the beautiful scenic and melodramatic production, 'Trinity Chimes,' in a prologue and three acts, which will be followed shortly by a sensational and realistic play, 'Slaves of the Workshop,' which will contain many new sensational features. Regarding Watson's Theatre, opposite City Hall, Brooklyn, it will not be many months before the lights will dazzle the public, as the plans and specifications were passed by the Building Department, and we already have our permit to build."

TED D. MARKS sails for Europe May 14, for a two weeks' stay, returning here June 14.

MARIE L. ACOSTA has fully recovered from her recent illness in Savannah, Ga., and will play parks this summer. She has been Dooty and Wells have made a big success with their Irish and Dutch act.

R. F. KOSTER is with Fred Phillips in a picture machine act. They have some excellent time booked for the summer season, the team being known as Koster and Phillips. Mrs. M. and Mrs. A. B. Koster have been very successful since entering vaudeville. They have just booked six weeks over the parks in Western Pennsylvania.

EDWARD LESLIE has played seven out of the last eight Sunday concerts at the New York Theatre.

THE RANDOLPHS are meeting with success with their act, "The Kids' Frolics in the Chinese Laundry." They have signed with W. J. Tucker, of Boston, for next season, with "Foxy Grand Ma" Co.

THE SIWANYO GOLF CLUB, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., gave George H. Primrose, a big silver loving cup night last week. The presentation took place after the Primrose and Dockstadter minstrel performance, and in the presence of the whole troupe.

WAAS & FIELD'S ODEON JUBILEE MINSTRELS Notes: No expense will be spared to make this a thoroughly first class attraction in every respect. Our minstrel first part will be elaborate. The circle will consist of all children, including interlocutor and four ends, ages from eight to fourteen years, and will be worked both black and white. The circle of specialties will consist of the cleverest juveniles that can be had, and our after act will be a hilarious farce. A special line of printing will be carried. We will play parks and summer resorts during the summer, and next season will make a tour of the principal towns in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, Maryland and Virginia. The costumes will be elegant, and will be under the supervision of Mr. Waas, as well as the stage management, while Mr. Field will care for all the business details.

BOYD BURROWS, of Denver, professionally known as Boyd Burrows, and Ivy Kelly, of Chicago, both members of the Western Novelty Co., were married at Moline, Ill., on April 29. Both have been on the stage since childhood. The bride is a daughter of Charlie Kelly, the old time minstrel, and a sister of Nora Kelly, banjoist, who, with her husband, Lewis Kelly, is a member of the above company. The new team will be known as Boyd and Ivy Burrows.

THE TROCADERO, Whatcom, Wash., recently opened to S. R. O., with the following performers: Three Maivens Bros., J. H. Heerde, Hattie Ward, Cole and Bell and Raymond, Carberry and Stanton, Lillian Raymond, Carless Sisters, Mackey and Croix, Lee Ingham, Beverley and Danvers, Ethel Barlow, Roubel Sims, Baxter and Southwick. The theatre is controlled by Charles G. Pulsifer, proprietor, with Fred W. Shanbeck, manager, and J. H. Heerde, stage manager.

THE KEELY BROS., bag punchers, have signed for the summer over the J. W. Gorman park circuit. They are meeting with success in their new act.

HAVE A FEW WEEKS OPEN FOR VAUDEVILLE DATES.

Address 163 EAST THIRTY-THIRD STREET, NEW YORK CITY, N. Y.

World of Players.

Notes from the Courtney-Morgan Stock Co.: We closed our season in Flint, Mich., last week, and so far we have broken all records. Mr. Lambert is again with us, as he has returned from Lincoln, Neb., where he accompanied the remains of his late wife, Miss Curtis. We staged for the first time our new piece from the pen of Alice Wilson Browne, entitled "The Queen's Counsel," and it was highly praised by both press and public. Cast follows: Hon. Harry Goodchild, Queen's Counsel, Earl V. Wood; Geo. Manning, Reade, Walter Edwards; Wayne Roberts, Chas. A. Warner; James Halkers, Mansfield Dunn; King Khatay, Ed. Blissette; Winnie Goodchild, Olive White; Esmeralda, Vern Holcombe; The Tibbings, Vera Holcombe; Ellen Goodchild, Lottie McWade, and F. H. Lambert, as Lawrence Marston. We are to go into summer stock in Tawas, Mich., June 15, and will use the above piece as an opener. We will also stage during our summer season the following works: "The Lone Star of Texas," "The Wheel of Fate" and "The Poor Man's Rich." Mr. Lambert will be our leading man all summer, and is also booked for next season. He leaves the company to go to Bay City, Mich., which is his home, where he will remain until the opening of our summer season.

Sullivan, Harris and Woods have engaged the following people for their new production, "For Her Children's Sake," next season: Selma Herman, to play the lead; Elsie Gillette, Kate McGee, Edna Allen, Clifford A. Lamont, Marie Antoinette Lamont, Mabel Lamont, Manuel Alexander and Matt Nasher.

Edie Snowden, whose artistic toe dances are a bright feature of "The Hall of Fame," at the New York Theatre, a Southern girl. Her professional debut occurred in this production.

Bruce Edwards, who was for the past season the advance agent of the "Captain Jinks" Co., has been taken to North Brother Island, suffering from smallpox.

May Irwin closed her season in Terre Haute, Ind., on Saturday, May 10. She was compelled to cancel the remainder of her tour because of ill health.

F. E. Moore, business manager of the Carroll Comedy Co., writes: "Business continues at the top and the outlook for our prospects are good for a long and successful summer run. We opened for a return date at Amos, W. Va., for three nights, May 1, and turned many people away, although the company had just played the town for three nights the week before to packed houses. On May 3 we opened the new Opera House at Smithfield, W. Va., which is under the management of the old theatrical manager, Mac D. Shuman. The original contract was for three nights, but it was extended to a week, as many people were unable to secure seats for the first three nights. We are to open three other new houses in the near future, and the managers promise us all kinds of business. The roster of the company remains the same. Our vaudeville features are Gerie Lewis and Baby Helen Louisa, who please the people, and are winning many friends by their clever work. They have been engaged by Manager Carroll for next season, when he will place upon the road as large a company as he has always presented, carrying a uniformed band and orchestra."

Harry Bruns writes: "In reply to our last ad, we received 68 offers from first class managers of companies for this summer and next season. THE OLD RELIABLE is certainly a wonderful advertising medium. If we don't take Nina Bectory Co. out, will surely avail myself of one of the many offers. Manager Lee, Nina and myself are having a good time on the lake, fishing. Nina caught a trout weighing 16½ lb. We are all in good health. I have just perfected a new light effect for Nina's dance, which is beautiful."

Grace Mae Lamkin and Albert Brown, of the Thanehouse Stock Co., Milwaukee, were married in that city on May 5.

Frank Connor, who for a number of years has been successful as a manager in England, returned to this country last week after an absence of ten years. His visit to the United States is made with the intention of placing a number of English melodramas which he controls, and which he is now producing in the provinces of England.

Gossip from the Curtis farm, at Baldwinville, N. Y., is a scene of great activity from daylight to dark these days. Everybody is hustling to have everything in readiness for our opening, May 23. This season our "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" outfit may fittingly be termed "the crimson" show, as the seat plank, jack, stringer, pole, stake and, in fact, every piece of timber is painted a rich crimson. The stage will be in charge of George Harris, who has just closed with the Stetson No. 1 Show, and reported at headquarters. Our top men will be in charge of A. M. Gates, with eight assistants. General Agent Jack Barnes will arrive this week, and, accompanied by three men, he will leave Friday to go down the line, heralding the coming of "The Crimson" Show. The weather hereabouts continues cold, and we are congratulating ourselves on the fact that we do not open for another week. Our street parade is to be filled with novelty surprises, including a Rummy Band, a troupe of Sioux Indians, in nation costumes and war paint, Gaston and Alphonse, two large American flags, and sixteen velvet and plush banners.

J. Irving Southard and a company numbering twenty have left New York for Charlotte, N. C., where they are to play a summer engagement of fifteen weeks at Latta Park. The first production is an English comedy, entitled "Nita's First." The company includes: Sue Seymour, Emma Salisbury, Margaret Asylyn, Pauline Billepe, Newton Drow, Frank Dekum, H. G. Harrison, Darnold McCullough and J. Irving Southard. Mr. Southard played last season the lead in "The Road to Ruin."

Dan Crimmin will use metropolitan printing (twenty-nine styles) for his "A Warm Match" Co. He has signed Daniel Barrett to play an important Irish comedy part, and Ed. A. Freeman as manager.

"A Wise Member" Co., C. R. Marvin, manager, closed for the season at Wapeton, N. D., on May 3. C. B. Marvin and wife (Maud Marvin) left for Chicago, E. Van Alstyne to Chicago, Hal Powell and wife (Carlo Portello) joined "Caught in a Web" Co., Samuel Murdy to St. Paul, Minn.; Laura Evans to Topeka, Kan., and Fred A. Wilson to Denver, Col.

W. S. Harkins left for Halifax with his stock company for the summer on May 12. Geo. Ober also went to play a four weeks' stock star engagement, producing Hoyt's plays.

Notes from the Metropolitan Stock Co.: We open May 30 at Rochester, Minn., where the company will spend the summer. The company will play there ten weeks, giving one performance each week. This gives our people a chance to rest up before going out for the regular season. We are looking forward to a pleasant time, as there is plenty of fishing here, and fresh country air. Those who are already signed are: G. Webb, manager; Walter Smith, Harry Gregg, Pauline Fravo, Jennette Perry.

C. B. Welles will sail for England on May 15. T. Dasey's new play, "The Burglar and the Wait," will be produced on July 29. Mabel Hite, who has played the title role in "The Telephone Girl" for two seasons, has been engaged to create the part of the wait. Minnie Cline (Mrs. Samuel Collins) mourns the loss of her mother, Mrs. Catherine McCormick, who died May 11 at her home in Elmhurst, L. I., N. Y.

Dave Warfield closed his first season as star in Chicago on May 10. His tour was remarkably successful.

Mrs. R. Du Pont, formerly leader in social circles of New Orleans, made her debut in the role of Mrs. Lloyd, in "Hearts Adrift," at the Garrick Theatre, New York, on May 12.

Mrs. John B. Willis, of Willis' Comedy Co., writes: "Saturday night, May 3, was a regular gala night for the company in Quebec, Can. Everybody has made so many friends, and presentations of different sorts came fast and furious. I received two beautiful bouquets, Mr. Willis a box of imported cigars, James Leslie a gold mounted meerschaum pipe, and Dick Thomas a silver handled ebony Willie Brown. We have become prime favorites here in Canada."

Joseph H. Slater, author of "A Soldier's Sweetheart," has signed for next season with the Chase-Lister Co., to manage the stage and produce a repertoire of his own plays.

The big melodramatic success, "The Fatal Wedding," will number in its cast the following: Cora Quinten, Lillie Rosewood, Edna Joseph, Julia Ralph, Nan Nannery, Celeste Helder, W. R. Daily Albert Reccardi, Richard Quilter, Rosie De Vaux, Frank E. Tracy, H. E. Willard, Mary Condon, May Joseph, Margaret Bourke, Eliza Mason, Ben Bass, Doc Breed, Madeline Clarke.

Notes from Charles Leyburne's Bon Ton Stock Co.: When the curtain was rung down at the Grand Wilkesbarre, Pa., on Saturday evening, May 10, in the presence of the largest audience of the season, the season came to a close for the company, and when the latter returned from the theatre to Hotel Hart they were very agreeably surprised, as Mr. Leyburne had previously given carte blanche to Miss Host James Poland, and a stunning banquet awaited them. The banquet was prepared by the generous manager and his amiable little wife—the versatile and charming Emma Bunting. Mr. Leyburne was chosen chairman, and addresses were made by Alderman Donohue, Manager Brown, Price, Connors, Bryden, Noble, Schroeder, Barton, D. P. Gundaker, Barton, Gildea and Gundaker. The following were present: Charles Leyburne, R. L. Leyburne, A. L. Leyburne, W. J. Eccleson, J. C. Sheehan, R. S. Sanders, Harry Brown, O. W. Roche, Horace Noble, Max Gildea, C. P. Price, Con. Roe, C. M. Connor, James O'Neil, George D. P. Gundaker, Eugene Schroeder, William Crownauer, Alderman Donohue, Mrs. C. P. Price and daughter, Mrs. Max Gildea and the three Gildea children, one of the latter making a clever address; Mrs. Charles Leyburne (Emma Bunting), Mrs. Horace Noble, Mrs. M. Bates, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Eugene Schroeder, Mrs. R. S. Sanders.

Andrew Mack closes his season May 24, at Meriden, Conn.

The Rogers Brothers close their season May 24, at Providence, R. I.

"Between Love and Duty" is the name of a comedy drama by Oswald Davis, which will be sent out by Sullivan, Harris & Woods the coming season.

"A Chinese Honey Moon," a musical comedy, book by George Dauce, music by Howard Talbot, was given its first American performance May 12, at the Chestnut Street Opera House, Philadelphia, for this statement. "Notwithstanding the violent attacks of the London critics on Klaw & Erlanger's English production of 'Ben Hur' at the Drury Lane Theatre, this play has scored the greatest success in the history of the foreign stage. It opened to the largest and most enthusiastic audience ever made at Drury Lane, and in the first twenty performances drew nearly $50,000. Its Saturday performances always exceed $6,000 on the day, and its average taking for the week is uniformly over $25,000, making the greatest financial success London has ever known. Its artistic value is vouched for by the great audiences that witness it. The opinions of the London dramatic writers in reference to the religious aspects of the play are very much at variance. Those who have adversely criticized it from the religious standpoint are not supported by King Edward and Queen Alexandra, both of whom have witnessed a performance from a special box constructed in the pit, a radically new departure for royalty."

C. A. Loder closed his season on May 10, and will spend the summer at his home in Norristown, Pa.

CONNECTICUT.—(See Page 273.)

Hartford.—The season now drawing to a close has been the most successful for many years. The attractions have been first class in the majority of cases, which would account for the good business. (Parsons, manager).—Rogers Bros., May 7, 8, came to S. R. O. Jeff De Angelis, in "A Royal Rogue," 9, played to the capacity of the house. Tom Waters, in "O'Flynn's Stone Wall," 10, presented a good vaudeville show, to fair returns. Coming: Kyrle Bellow, 12, 13, "Mortuo Bound," 14, Mrs. Patrick Campbell 19, Andrew Mack 21, 22.

New Hartford (Jennings & Graves, managers).—"Two Little Vagrants," 5-7, had good returns. "The Drummer Boy of Shiloh" (local), 8, had the capacity of the house. "The Span of Life," 9, 10, had excellent business. Bookings: Fulgore's European and American Vaudeville Co. 12, 13, Hi Henry's minstrels 14, "The Convict's Daughter" 15-17.

NOTES.—Manager Jennings, of the New Hartford, celebrated his fourth birthday by giving a banquet to forty of his friends Saturday evening, 10, in the rathskeller under the theatre. Among those present was Treasurer W. C. Schoenwalder, of Smith's Colonial Theatre, Bridgeport. The New Hartford closes its season 17. During the summer a new entrance is to be built, work on which has already begun.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans.—At the St. Charles Orpheum (Chas. E. Bray, manager), for week of May 5 (farewell week), a splendid vaudeville bill was offered, and drew big crowds throughout the week. Among those who pleased were: The Eight Picchiani Sisters, and Midgley and Carlisle.

West End (H. A. Ottmann, mgr.).—The usual large crowds visit this popular Summer resort nightly, where Brooke's Chicago Marine Band delights the lovers of good music, while a first class vaudeville bill is offered in open air. Edgar Atchinson Ely (second week), in a change of specialty, pleased, as usual. Kelly and Reno, grotesque acrobats, pleased, and will be retained for week of 11.

Notes.—ATHLETIC PARK (Chas. E. Bray, manager).—This beautiful Summer park, under the Orpheum circuit management, will open its season 11, when Summer vaudeville in conjunction with the Boys of New York Symphony Orchestra, A. F. Pinto, director, will be the attraction, a popular press. For the opening week the vaudeville bill includes: Edith Yerrington, Burke, Moller and Teller, Sankey Bros., and the biograph. Under the personal direction of Manager Bray the park has been greatly improved, and is now one of the prettiest places of amusement throughout Southern Louisiana.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (I. Greenwall, manager).—"Hoodman Blind," with W. H. Farum leading, drew large audiences during week of 4. The house closed with that bill. The Summer season at this house, under the management of Treasurer Morris Marks, begins 11, when the Boston Lyric Opera Co. will present "Boccaccio" and "Il Trovatore." The Baldwin-Melville Co. leaves 11 for Buffalo, N. Y., for a Summer season at the Academy.

Notes.—Edgar Atchinson Ely, the popular comedian, was successfully operated on, for ulcerated throat, and will rest up here for week of May 11. John M. World and Mindel Hastings, who are to appear at West End week of 15, are enjoying a much needed rest. John H. Garrison and his Boston Lyric Opera Co. arrived 8, resting up until their opening at the Grand, 11.

"The Smart Set," a comedy, by a local author, will be presented 9, 10, at the Audubon Theatre, by local talent.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville.—At Macaulay's Theatre (Jno. T. Macaulay, manager) John Allen, who came May 10, presenting "The Hunchback" and "The Palace of the King," Large audiences were present at each performance. Miss Allen received a warm reception from her admirers here. The supporting company was well balanced, and the stage settings were elaborate. Coming: Vegara Grand Opera Co. 12.

AUDITORIUM (James R. Camp, manager).—Weber & Fields' Star Organization came to a standing room house.

AVENUE THEATRE (Chas. A. Shaw, manager).—The Gambler's Daughter attracted good houses at each performance last week. For week of 11, Robt. McWade, in "Rip Van Winkle."

BUCKINGHAM THEATRE (Whallen Bros., managers).—"The Bowery Burlesques" attracted good houses during last week's engagement. Mlle. De Leon, the girl in blue, was featured. The olio was a good one. The different acts were pleasing. For week of 11, Al. Reeves and company.

TEMPLE THEATRE (J. D. Hopkins, manager).—"This has been the last vaudeville at this house, the management gave the public a splendid bill. The following were on the programme: Dorothy Walters, Raymond and Clarke, Kerns and Cole, Raymond and Teal, Purcell and Maynard, and the Marling Maximilian, the Gannells, Inno and Savaris, the Ariel Blossoms, Murielle. Commencing 12 the new stock company will appear for a short season, presenting "Sapho." The company is under the direction of Thos. J. Keogh, who will play comedy roles. The leading lady will be Mary Hampton, Alex. Kourney, leading man. The other members are: George Scott, Wilson Day, Ward Turner Gordon, Marion Sylvester, William Webb, Elsie De foe, and William Sherlock.

CHARLES HERTZMAN, treasurer of the Buckingham Theatre, is the author, having been initiated in Louisville Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, No. 8, last week. None of the out of door resorts have as yet announced vaudeville attractions.

Paducah.—At the Kentucky (James E. English, manager) Viola Allen, May 8, had a packed house, and pleased immensely. Elsie have adversely criticized it from the religious standpoint are not supported by King Edward and Queen Alexandra, both of whom have witnessed a performance from a special box constructed in the pit, a radically new departure for royalty.

C. A. Loder closed his season on May 10, and will spend the summer at his home in Norristown, Pa.

Roster of the stock company at Wilkesbarre, Pa.: Guyette and Taft, proprietors; Spencer Charters, manager; A. Burt Wesner, Spencer Charters, Oliver D. Bailey, James R. Stockdale, Geraldine Russell, Annie Wesner, Chas. Guthrie, Fred Channey, Harry Wesley, Will F. Burke, Zula Ellsworth, Pauline Bailey.

LYCEUM THEATRE (C. U. Phillely, manager).—"The Wilbur-Kerwin Opera Co. closed 10, after playing a five nights engagement to very satisfactory business. This also closes the regular season at this house. LAKE CASINO (E. P. Churchill, manager), opens the season June 1. THIR OTTO FLOTO SHOWS had big business 9, 10.

KANSAS.

Topeka.—At the Crawford (O. T. Crawford, local manager) Katie Emmett, in "The Waifs of New York," drew a small audience. "In Louisiana," 5, drew small house. Coming: "When Reuben Comes to Town," 10, "The Dairy Farm," 12, 13, "The Christian," 15, "Hoosier Daisy," 17.

Notes.—The Otto Floato dog show, with Lockard's elephants played 5, 6. The rain the first day kept the large crowds away, but the tent was filled 6.

Wichita.—At the Crawford Theatre (E. L. Martling, manager) the Symphony Orchestra (local) pleased a large audience May 6. When Reuben Comes to Town, delighted a packed house 8, coming: "The Christian," 13, "The Dairy Farm," 14, "Monte Cristo," 17. The Gilpins, hypnotists, did a nice business week of 5.

UTAH.

Salt Lake City.—At the Salt Lake Theatre (Geo. D. Pyper, manager) "The Prince and the Peasant," a comic opera, book by Frank Matheis, music by Harold Orlob, was presented for the first time on any stage May 2, to good business. Coming: The Salt Lake Opera Co., in "The Jolly Musketiers," 24-27.

GRAND THEATRE (Paul Hammer Jr., manager).—Lincoln J. Carter's "Two Little Waifs" played to good business 5-7, which closed the house for the season.

MENTION.—The Salt Palace (A. C. Adamson, manager), Saltair (J. E. Langford, manager), Calder's Park (Morris Levy, manager), Lagoon (J. S. Critchlow, manager), open 30. Geo. W. Derr, treasurer of the Salt Lake Theatre, will be ticket agent at Saltair this season.

DEATHS IN THE PROFESSION.

ROBERT F. McDONALD, a notice of whose death appeared in our issue of April 26, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Trinidad McDonald (professionally known as Belle Wilton) and three children. This information is furnished by the brothers of the deceased, James J. and John A. McDonald, and is in refutation of the statement that Louise Burnette is the surviving widow.

JOHN WOODARD, an actor, died May 3, at Rutherford, N. J., aged eighty-two years. In the early 60's Mr. Woodard was stage manager of the New Idea Theatre, in San Francisco. He starred for a number of years in his own play, entitled "Through Death Valley." In later years he was with Daniel Frohman's company, and was also with Russ Whtyal, in "For Fair Virginia." His last appearance on the stage was made Feb. 14, at Rutherford, N. J., in "Naval Engagements" and "The Maid of Croissey." The remains were interred 6, in Evergreen Cemetery, under the auspices of the Actors' Fund.

BRETT HARTE, the American author, died suddenly on May 5, at Cambridge, near Adershot, England, of hemorrhage, caused by an affection of the throat. He was born on Aug. 26, 1839. Mr. Harte's writings are of world wide fame, and among the stories from his pen which were dramatized were "Miles," "Crescent" and "Two Men of Sandy Bar." His wife, son and daughter survive him.

JAMES NELSON SMITH, professionally known as George Nelson, of the Nelson Trio, died at his residence in New York on April 24, after a lingering illness of paralysis. He was a member of New York Lodge No. 1, B. P. O. Elks. He leaves a widow, Marie Nelson, and one daughter, five years old.

EDWARD J. McLOUGHLIN, who was in the profession some years ago in Augustin Daly's Co., died at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., on May 3, aged thirty-two years. He managed, together with Arthur Rehan, the first starring tour of Jas. K. Hackett, and remained in the theatrical field until 1898, and then retired from the profession.

MAY BAKER, who was well known as a light opera singer, died in Brice, O., on April 17, of peritonitis, aged thirty-three years. She first appeared professionally as a member of the Wilbur Opera Co., and her last engagement was with "Morocco Bound," in Boston.

JAMES H. SMITH, proprietor of the Great Eastern Show, died May 4 at Kansas City, from blood poisoning.

DAN LONGACRE died suddenly May 9, at Louisville, Ky., from heart disease. For many years he was employed as doorkeeper at the old Bijou Theatre and the Avenue Theatre, that city. At the time of his death he conducted a bicycle repairing business. He was forty-eight years of age. His sister survives him.

Music and Song.

Sousa's Band was heard at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, evening of Sunday, May 11, in its final concert in New York previous to its departure for Russia. On the above date the concert occurred, the New York debut of Marguerite De Fritsch, a young violinist. She is a member of a musical family, her uncle being Louis Schmidt, first violin of the Philharmonic Society. Miss De Fritsch played Hubay's fantasia from "Carmen," and for an encore Simoni's "Madrigal." She showed considerable skill, and was cordially received.

Rosati's Naval Reserve Band, of New Jersey, is now in its fourteenth season.

The Ring.

JOB GANS and FRANK ERNE met before the International Sporting Club, at Fort Erie, Can., May 12, to settle their engagement for the lightweight championship of America. Both men were very cautious and little was done during the first round, of which, however, Gans had a bit the better. Shortly after starting the second round Erne laid himself open, and Gans, quick to take advantage of the chance for which he had been watching, delivered a hard right hand on the ear, which shook his opponent, and before the latter could recover from its effects the dusky boxer landed another, which took effect on the jaw, knocking Frank down, and while prone on the floor he was counted out by Charley White.

MARVIN HART disposed of "Kid" Carter in the ninth round of what had been scheduled for a twenty round "go" at Louisville, May 3. It was a hot contest from beginning to end.

BILLY GARDNER and MIKE ("TWIN") SULLIVAN fought six rounds

WESTCHESTER JOCKEY CLUB.

A Week of Excellent Racing at the Favorite Morris Park Course.

Notwithstanding that the weather during the greater part of the opening week of the Spring meeting of the Westchester Racing Association was unseasonably cold, especially on Friday and Saturday, the management had little reason to complain because of non-attendance, for thousands were there each day, and consequently the box office takings must have been highly satisfactory. The chief events decided were the 'Roboggon Handicap, which was taken by Old England from the favorite Arsenal, winner of the Metropolitan, and the Withers Stakes, captured by Compute after a close finish with Old England—a result mainly due to superior riding on the part of Jockey Shaw. The events decided during the week are summarized below:

May 6.—Six furlongs—J. B. Haggin's Bon Mot, 3 yrs., 111 lb., Wonderly, 9 to 5, won; Khalil, 3, 103, J. Martin, 5 to 1, second, by half a length; Col. Bill, 3, 108, M. Thompson, 20 to 1, third. Time, 1:16.

BASEBALL LAW.

National League Wins One Case and Loses Another.

The Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia on May 6 entered a decree refusing to allow the appeal taken to the Supreme Court by Lajoie, Bernhard and Fraser, the enjoined players of the Athletic American League team, to act as supersedeas. The three men were ordered to enter $500 security. The effect of the decision is that the players are to continue to obey the injunction restraining them from participating in games with any team other than the Philadelphia, of the National League.

In the Circuit Court at St. Louis, Mo., May 6, Judge Taft denied the petition of President F. De H. Robinson, of the St. Louis Club, of the National League, to restrain Wallace and Harper from playing with the St. Louis American League team. Judge Fisher, who had been asked for a similar injunction by Mr. Robinson to restrain Heidrick from playing with the same team, also denied the petition. Judge Taft, in deciding the case of Harper, covered the points on which the decision in the two cases rest. He said, in part: "We are referred to a recent decision in a case similar to this against Lajoie in Pennsylvania, where the writ of injunction issued. Decision in the courts of other States are persuasive, but we are not bound to follow them. Again it is contended, and we are of the opinion, that the contract is lacking in mutuality. Defendant is bound with bands of steel for the entire contractual period, while Section 4, of the National League contract gives the plaintiff power, at his option, to expel defendant, which means to cancel the contract for certain enumerated acts or reasons, over all of which the plaintiff is made the exclusive and arbitrary judge; and Section 14 gives him the right to cancel and determine its liabilities and obligations thereunder by simply giving the defendant ten days' notice of his intention to do so. Personal liberty, which is guaranteed to every citizen under our constitution and laws, consists in the right to work where one pleases, and when, and to do that, which may lead to one's business or pleasure, only so far restraining it as the rights of others make it necessary for the welfare of other citizens."

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

It looks as if the Eastern teams have struck a snag since they went West. They are certainly up against a stronger problem than they appear to be able to solve with any degree of satisfaction to their friends in the East. The three defeats sustained by the New Yorks at Chicago were an unlooked for surprise to their supporters in this city, especially coming so closely after their brilliant work before going West. It is announced that Manager Fogel will protest the first two games New York lost in Chicago. The New York manager discovered that the pitcher's rubber plate was nearly two feet from where one regulation distance from the home plate. On the top of this comes a protest by Brooklyn against Empire O'Day. His work in the games at Pittsburgh has stirred up the Brooklyn people to the utmost limit, and they want no more of him in their games. Truly, for ways that are dark and things that are peculiar, it takes a trip to the West to find out something about. The Philadelphia had done the best work in the West thus far of any of the Eastern teams. The result of the games played is as follows:

TUESDAY, MAY 6.
At Cincinnati—Pittsburg, 6; Cincinnati, 2. At Chicago—Rain.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 7.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

The work of the teams of this organization as a whole has been more satisfactory thus far this year than it has been since it adopted the expansion idea. It is now on a par with the National League, when the latter was at the height of its zenith. The American team have been evenly matched and are playing high class ball. The people in the cities where the teams are playing seem to appreciate this fact, and are patronizing their games in a most liberal manner. St. Louis, the Athletics, Boston and Detroit are well bunched in the lead, while Chicago and Washington are within halting distance of the leaders. The Baltimore and Cleveland, who bring up the rear of the procession, are sore disappointments, especially the former, who were looked upon as potential winners. The result of the games recently played is as follows:

TUESDAY, MAY 6.
At Boston—Boston, 5; Baltimore, 4. At Philadelphia—Athletic, 11; Washington, 0. At Cleveland—Chicago, 6; Cleveland, 3. At Detroit—Rain.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 7.
At Boston—Boston, 12; Washington, 8. At Philadelphia—Athletic, 6; Baltimore, 6. At Detroit—St. Louis, 4; Detroit, 2. At Cleveland—Chicago, 5; Cleveland, 4.

THURSDAY, MAY 8.
At Boston—Washington, 5; Boston, 1. At Philadelphia—Athletic, 6; Baltimore, 3. At Cleveland—Chicago, 4; Cleveland, 1. At Detroit—St. Louis, 5; Detroit, 0.

FRIDAY, MAY 9.
At Boston—Washington, 6; Boston, 4. At Philadelphia—Athletic, 6; Baltimore, 6. At Chicago—Chicago, 12; Cleveland, 8. At Detroit—St. Louis, 3; Detroit, 2.

SATURDAY, MAY 10.
At Boston—Boston, 8; Washington, 1. At Philadelphia—Athletic, 13; Baltimore, 4. At Cleveland and Detroit—Rain.

SUNDAY, MAY 11.
At Detroit—Detroit, 10; Chicago, 9, ten innings.

MONDAY, MAY 12.
At Baltimore—Baltimore, 9; Washington, 4. At Philadelphia—Boston, 8; Athletics, 2. At Detroit—Detroit, 5; Chicago, 4. At Cleveland—St. Louis, 7; Cleveland, 2.

The standing of the clubs to May 12, inclusive, is as follows:

W. L. P. C. W. L. P. C.
St. Louis, 10 4.714 Chicago, 8 7.533
Athletic, 10 6.625 Washington, 7 10.412
Boston, 10 7.588 Baltimore, 6 10.375
Detroit, 8 6.571 Cleveland, 4 13.235

MALCOLM W. FORD, ex-champion amateur athlete of America and whose specialty was long and high jumping and sprinting, murdered his brother, Paul Leicester Ford, the novelist, and then committed suicide, on the morning of May 8. The double tragedy occurred at the new home of the latter, at 37 East Seventy-third Street, in this city, and was the final result of the long estrangement between Malcolm Ford and the other members of the family after the death of Gordon Ford, the father, who had disinherited Malcolm at his death, in 1892, chiefly, it is understood, because of the prodigious gains he had gained in the pursuit of athletics, a bent which the father would not encourage, or even tolerate, in any of his children. The sad affair is deeply deplored by the many friends of both murderer and victim, for both of them were popular among their acquaintances.

THE AMERICAN polo players made their initial appearance in London, May 3, in a match at Ranelagh for the Westchester Cup. Although rain fell incessantly, there was a great crowd of fashionable people present. The American team was composed of J. E. Cowdin, J. M. Waterbury, R. Agassiz and Lawrence Waterbury. Foxhall Keene being unable to take part in the game, owing to his recent accident. The Cantab team was made up of Walter McCreary, a former Callaghan, P. Nicholas, Mr. Buckmaster and C. D. Miller. The Americans played a superior game, winning by four goals in love. Another game was contested at Hurlingham 7, the Wellingtons beating the Britishers by five goals to two. The Wellington, or American team, was composed at first by George Curtis, F. J. Mackey, J. M. Waterbury and Foxhall Keene, the latter ceasing play at half time. Another game was played 8, Keene being again compelled to stop play at the end of twenty minutes, and the Britishers winning by a score of 5 to 3.

DR. SARGENT on May 6 gave out the official results of the fifty steeple chase in Harvard University, the leader being Arthur Tyn, the splendidly built sophomore, whose figures beat anything ever before shown by a collegian. His total was 2369.8, the complete record being as follows: Push ups, 60; pull ups, 46; strength of lungs, 60; strength of back, 500; strength of legs, 910; right forearm, 80; left forearm, 81; chest and upper arms, 748.8; total, 2369.8.

CHARLES HUTCHINGS became amateur golf champion of Great Britain May 2, by defeating Sidney H. Frey in the final contest for the championship, played at London. Hutchings won by one hole only, his score on the first round being 75 and on the second 85, while Frey was 84 on the first round and 79 on the second. This was the first time that London golfers were represented in the final contest for the championship.

THE FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP and the English Association Cup were again contested for by the teams representing Sheffield and Southampton, at the Crystal Palace, London, April 26, an enormous crowd being present. The draw of the preceding Saturday was then decided, Sheffield winning by two goals to one.

MIXE EGAN and OLIVER DREW, respectively announced as the American and Irish handball champions, are to contend for the international championship at the game on May 22 and 30, at the Jersey City Handball Court; conditions, best eight in fifteen games, for $250 a side.

CHARLES HITCHCOCK Jr., of Yale, won the title of champion of the Intercollegiate Golf Association at Garden City, N. Y. He met H. B. McFarland, University of Pennsylvania, in the final of the annual tournament, May 10, and defeated him by 12 up and 11 to play.

BLAIR, the speedy sprinter of the University of Chicago, did one hundred yards in 9 1/4, at the dual meet between his university and the Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., May 9. This ties the world's record for the distance.

A TRIANGULAR FIELD MEET between college teams was held at Soldiers' Field, Cambridge, Mass., May 10, with this result: Dartmouth, 84 1/2 points; Technology Institute, 48; Brown, 22 1/2.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY athletes and a team from Lehigh University met in a dual meet at Ohio Field, this city, May 10, the New Yorkers winning by 60 1/2 points to 47 1/2.

YALE UNIVERSITY ATHLETES defeated those from the University of California in a dual meet at Yale Field, New Haven, May 10, the score being 55-6 points to 41-6.

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY ATHLETES defeated a team from Amherst College in a dual meet at Princeton, N. J., May 10. Score, 63 1/2 points to 53 1/2.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY'S team defeated that representing Syracuse University in a dual meet at Syracuse, N. Y., May 11; score, 56 1/2 points to 47 1/2.

Cricket.

J. B. KING scored 102, not out, of a total of 207 for seven wickets compiled by the Belmont eleven against the University of Pennsylvania team, May 10, at Philadelphia. The collegians had previously been retired for a total of 80, F. L. Altemus bowling four wickets for 11 runs, including three wickets with consecutive balls.

F. H. BOHLEN scored 84, and J. E. C. Morton made 72 of a total of 223 credited to the Germantown eleven against the University of Pennsylvania team, May 3, at Philadelphia, the pair putting on 118 before the first wicket fell. The collegians scored 74 for five wickets before time was called.

J. H. MASON made 75 of a total of 116 scored by the Philadelphia team against the Frankford Country Club's eleven, May 3, at Philadelphia. The visitors were retired for a total of 65. P. N. Le Roy bowled five wickets of the Frankford team for twelve runs.

R. PEARSON went in first and carried his bat out for 81 of a total of 165 made by the Haverford College freshmen eleven against the Haverford Charter School team, April 25, at Haverford, Pa. The visitors were retired for a total of 49, J. Hopkins bowling six wickets at the cost of 27 runs.

THE MANHATTAN TEAM defeated the Nelson Lodge team by totals of 170 to 56, May 10, at Prospect Park, Brooklyn, after declaring the inning closed with six wickets down. H. Philadelpha bowled in fine form for Manhattan team, taking six wickets for 26 runs.

E. GUEST made 62 of a total of 122 for nine wickets scored by the West Philadelphia eleven against the Belmont eleven, in the opening contest for the minor league championship May 3, at Philadelphia. The Belmont team was retired for a total of 52.

H. P. BAILY made his reappearance with the Merion eleven in the contest against the Tynon team, May 8, at Haverford, Pa. He bowled very effectively in the first inning, when he captured no fewer than nine wickets.

ARNOLD COLLINS accomplished the remarkable bowling feat of capturing six wickets with consecutive balls of an over in a recent contest at Adelaide, South Australia.

It is now definitely settled that a representative Philadelphia team will visit England next year.

Wheeling.

FRANK KRAMER clipped one-fifth of a second off the world's competition record for a quarter mile, 28 3/4, being his own, in a race at the Vailsburg, N. J., track, May 4. Floyd MacFarland was second. Kramer also won a five mile race on the same day.

A BRIGHT MUSICAL COMEDY WITH A PLOT.

"A DEVIL'S LANE,"

By EUNICE FITCH. Music by CARLETON LEE COLBY,

FEATURING THE

EL MORE SISTERS and JAMES F. GREEN,

SUPPORTED BY A SELECT COMPANY OF CLEVER ARTISTS.

"A DEVIL'S LANE" is an interesting story, humorously told, with funny situations and strong climaxes. Every musical number new and catchy. SPECIAL SCENIC PRODUCTIONS. Picturesque and elaborate stage settings. Scenery from the Studio of HESS & SHEPARD, Chicago. A full line of the finest pictorial paper. This will be one of the best high class attractions on the road.

MANAGERS, New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, send open time after Jan. 19, 1903.

Address all communications to JAMES F. GREEN, 908 Chicago Opera House Bldg., Chicago, Ill. JOHNSON & GREEN, Managers.

I WISH TO ANNOUNCE THAT I,

FRANK WHITMAN

Was born Dec. 11, 1878, and ten years later (in 1888) made my first professional appearance as a

DANCING VIOLINIST, with VERELLI'S COMEDY CO. I was three years with that company.

I played my first vaudeville engagement in September, 1893, at ROBINSON'S MUSÉE THEATRE, BUFFALO N. Y. Since then I have been continuously before the public, appearing as

"THE DANCING VIOLINIST"

In the leading vaudeville houses and resorts of this country. In the past few years there have been several performers who have attempted to imitate my act, and recently, in self protection, I covered it by copyright, and I intend to protect it against any and all infringements.

I AM THE FIRST AND ONLY VIOLINIST

Who has accomplished the feat of dancing and playing the violin at the same time. Jiggers and Fiddlers don't count.

The leading managers of this country know me by my work, and I do not need to show press notices or other credentials to secure engagements. Address AVENUE THEATRE, Detroit, next week.
